Supreme Court Decides Insular Cases----Vital Ruling in the Downes Case.

FORAKER ACT CONSTITUTIONAL

Washington, May 27.—The United States supreme court today handed down opinions covering all of the issues on the new insular possessions which have been in controversy.

Although several of the decisions upheld the contestants on certain issues raised, yet in the most important decision, that of Downes against Bidwell, Justice Brown announced the sweeping decision of the court upholding the general attitude and policy of the government up to the present time.

The effect of this decision is to affirm the constitutionality of the Foraker act and to give congress power to deal with a newly acquired territory in such manner as the legislative branch may consider suitable for the new territory.

The decision also has the effect of declaring that the new insular possessions do not by virtue of the treaty of cession acquire all the privileges and rights of the constitution.

Justice McKenna delivered the dissenting opinion of the court in the insular cases. He was joined in that opinion by Justices Shiras and White. Justice Gray also dissented from the majority opinion in the Delima case.

THE RIGHT TO GOVERN.

Justice Brown said that whether the sugars imported from or into Porto Rico was dutiable depends upon whether Porto Rico is a foreign country. He held that the right to acquire territory involved the right to govern and control it by congress, but he said that a country could not be both foreign and domestic. The opinion was opposed to the contention of the government. He concluded that at the time the duties were collected Porto Rico was not a foreign country, but a territory of the United States.

THE CONCLUSION.

Justice Brown concluded as follows:

"If an act of congress be necessary to convert a foreign country into domestic territory, the question at once suggests itself, what is the character of the legislation demanded for this purpose? Will an act appropriating money for its purchase be sufficient? Apparently not. Will at act appropriating the duties collected upon imports to and from such country for the benefit of its government be sufficient? Apparently not.

"Will acts making appropriations for its postal service, for the establishment of lighthouses, for the maintenance of quarantine stations, for electing public buildings, have that effect? Will an act establishing a complete local government, but with the reservation of a right to collect duties upon commerce be adequate for that purpose? None of these, nor all together, will be sufficient, if the contention of the government be sound, since acts embracing all these provisions have been passed in connection with Porto Rico, and it is insisted that it is still a foreign country within the meaning of the tariff laws.

"We are unable to acquiesce in this assumption that a territory may be at the same time both foreign and domestic.

"We are, therefore, of the opinion that at the time these duties were levied Porto Rico was not a foreign country within the meaning of the tariff laws, but a territory of the United States; that the duties were illegally exacted and that the plaintiffs are entitled to recover them back.

JUDGMENT IS REVERSED.

"The judgment of the circuit court of the southern district of New York is, therefore, reversed and the case remanded to that court for further proceedings in consonance with this opinion."

In the course of his reasoning on the manner of the acquisition of Porto Rico Justice Brown held that congress has authority to control such territory.

"Indeed it is," he said, "scarcely to much to say that there has not been a session of congress since the territory of Louisiana was purchased that they had not enacted legislation based upon the assumed authority to govern and control the territory."

FROM NECESSITIES.

"It is an authority which arises not necessarily from the territorial clause of the constitution but from the necessities of the case and from the inability of the states to act upon the subject. Under this power congress may deal with territory acquired by treaty; may administer its government as it does that of the District of Columbia; it may organize a local territorial government; it may admit it as a state upon equality with other states; it may sell its public ownings to individual citizens or may donate them as homesteads to actual settlers.

SUBJECT TO CONGRESS.

"In short, when once acquired by treaty it belongs to the United States and is subject to the disposition of congress.

"Territory thus acquired can remain a foreign country under the tariff laws only upon one of two theories. Either that the word 'foreign' applies to such countries as were foreign at the time the statute was enacted, notwithstanding any subsequent change in their condition or that they remain foreign under the tariff laws until congress has formally embraced them within the customs union of the states.

"The first theory is obviously untenable. While a statute is presumed to speak from the time of its enactment, it embraces all such persons or things as subsequently fall within its scope, and ceases to apply to such as thereafter fall without its scope.

"The theory that a country remains foreign with respect to the tariff laws until congress has acted by embracing it within the customs union, presupposes that a country may be domestic for one purpose and foreign for another. It may undoubtedly become necessary for the adequate administration of domestic territory to pass a special act providing the proper machinery and officers as the president would have no authority except under the war power, to administer it himself; but no act is necessary to make it domestic territory if once it has been ceded to the United States.

"We express no opinion as to whether congress is bound to appropriate the money to pay for it. This theory also presupposes that territory may be held indefinitely by the United States; that it may be treated in every particular except for tariff purposes, as domestic territory; that laws may be enacted and enforced by officers of the United States sent there for that purpose.

M'KENNA'S DISSENT.

Washington, May 27.—Justice McKenna went into a detailed examination of the cases cited in the majority opinion. He maintained that they did not show a clear current of decision but disclosed much divergence of view. He referred also to the fact that precedents not in consonance with the majority view were now dismissed as dictum and not binding opinion.

He spoke of the dangers attending the dismissal of judicial opinion as "dictum" and of the greater danger when such a course may interfere, or had interfered with the action of a nation.

Constancy and certainty of judicial opinion was of the highest importance, the justice declared, and they should not be like the "exhalations of a marsh, shining mistily." Justice McKenna's examination of the many precedents was exhaustive and almost an hour was given to showing to what extent the circumstances of each case bore on the present condition in Porto Rico.

THE GOETZE CASE.

In the cases of Goetze vs. the United States and Crossman vs. the United States, brought here from the circuit court for the southern district of New York to test in the Goetze case the validity of the levy of duty on an importation of tobacco from Porto Rico into the United States after the ratification of the treaty and before the passage of the Porto Rican act, and in the Crossman case duty on liquor, imported into Hawaii after annexation, but before the taking effect of the act providing a government for Hawaii, the court reversed the judgments below, for the reasons cited in the DeLima case, holding the levy of duties was unconstitutional.

THE DOOLEY CASE.

Justice Brown also announced the opinion of the court in Dooley vs the United States, involving the validity of a duty levied on goods imported into Porto Rico from the United States between the date of military occupation and the taking effect of the Porto Rico tariff act The court held that there could be no doubt of the validity of the duties levied by virtue of General Miles' order prior to the ratification of the treaty of peace. It placed this right on the ground of military necessity.

With reference to duties levied after ratification of the peace treaty the court said a different rule applied and it held these duties invalid.

Justices Gray, Shiras, McKenna and White dissented, the latter delivering the opinion.

JUSTICE WHITE'S VIEW.

MURDERED BY MASKED MEN

OHIO FARMER IS BRUTALLY SLAIN.

Himself and Family Bound While the Villians Ransacked the House for Money.

Navarre, Ohio, May 27.—Christian Stahl, a farmer living near this place, was brutally murdered last night by two masked burglars, who broke into the house and demanded his money.

Upon being refused, the burglars bound Stahl and the other members of the family with ropes. After beating Stahl until he was unconscious the men left. Stahl's sister managed to free herself and gave the alarm.

Stahl died soon after being freed from his bonds. There is no clew to the murderers.

SEVERED ARTERY IN WRIST

MISS WAGNER MEETS A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Thrust her Hand Through a Window This Morning — Shopman Loses a Finger.

Miss Wagner, residing at 219 East Jefferson street, suffered a painful accident this morning. While engaged in cleaning windows she accidently thrust her right hand through a pane of glass and received an extensive gash across the wrist which severed an artery. Dr. C. B. Stemen, who was called, ligated the artery and placed several stitches in the wound. No permanent ill effects are anticipated.

LOST A FINGER.

M. Harris, employed in the machine shops of the Pennsylvania company, got his right hand caught in some machinery shortly after noon today, mashing the little finger so badly that amputation was necessary. Drs C. B. and W. E. Stemen attended the injured man.

PASS WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 27.—At today's session of the United Presbyterian general assembly the question of woman suffrage came up in the report of the judiciary committee, which was to the effect that the question is purely civic and therefore not one that properly can come before an ecclesiastical legislative body. The report was approved.

The assembly also adopted the recommendation of the committee calling for the reinstatement of Rev. J. H. Kyle, of Delaware, on the basis of repentance.

Steps were ordered taken for the establishment of colleges at Asyut, Egypt, and Gordon, India.

An appropriation of $5,000 was made for the establishment of a mission at Dolaib Haib, Soudan, and $10,000 for ministerial relief, the maximum annuity being fixed at $250.

For home missions an appropriation of $100,000 was made.

Judge J. H. Aiken leaves tomorrow for Albion to sit as special judge in a slander case in the Noble circuit court.

FIVE WERE SLAIN

A TERRIBLE COLLISION OF TROLLEY CARS.

HALF A HUNDRED INJURED

MOTORMEN WERE RACING FOR A SWITCH.

CARS MET ON SHARP CURVE

BOTH MOTORMEN KILLED IN THE CRASH.

Albany, N. Y., May 27.—Further information from the vicinity of the collision on the Albany and Hudson railway near East Greenbush Sunday afternoon shows that the number of injured is over fifty. There have been no other deaths, however, up to this hour, than the five previously reported.

The passengers on the cars, which run on the Albany and Hudson railway, were pleasure seekers bound for various resorts and many of them were of rich and fashionable families.

The dead:

Frank Smith, motorman.

William Nichols, motorman

Maud Kellog, of Round Lake.

Annie Rooney, of Stuyvesant Falls.

David Mchoney, mate on the Dean Richmond.

Fatally injured:

George C. Barry, of Troy, hurt internally.

Fred J. Smith, of Albany, injured internally.

Among those more seriously injured are:

William F. Barry, of Troy, cuts on head.

Mary Barry, of Troy, leg broken.

George P. Bittner, of Moorville, cut and bruised.

Isaac Blauvelt, of Albany, leg broken.

De Witt C. Peltz, of Albany, badly bruised.

Charles Peltz, of Albany, painfully bruised.

Howard J. Rogers, of Albany, bruised and cut.

Mrs. H. J. Rogers, of Albany, cut and bruised.

H. J. Rogers, of Albany, leg broken.

A. W. Crotsley, of Albany, hurt internally.

George Lane, of Albany, badly cut.

Fred Herzog, of Albany, shoulder dislocated.

MOURNFUL SCENE IN POSTOFFIC

The lobby of the postoffice at Greenbush after the disaster was filled with dead and wounded, with hysterical women and children looking for relatives and friends, and with surgeons administering temporary relief, while ambulances were hurrying through the town, taking the wounded to hospitals and the dead to the morgue.

The point on the single track where the collision occurred was at a sharp curve. So sudden was the collision that the motorman did not have time to put on the brakes before southbound car No. 22 had gone almost clean through north-bound car No. 17, and hung on the edge of a high bluff with its load of shrieking, maimed humanity. One motorman was pinioned up against the smashed front of the platform with both legs severed. He was killed instantly, while the other motorman lived but a few minutes.

Fully 120 men, women and children formed a struggling, screaming pyramid, mixed with blood, detached portions of human bodies and the wreckage of the cars.

The cars weigh fifteen tons each and are the largest built, but so frightful was the crash that both were torn almost to splenters.

STORY OF AN EYE-WITNESS.

Among the passengers on the south-bound car was Deputy Superintendent Howard J. Rogers, of the state department of public instruction. He was accompanied by Mrs. Rogers and their young son and daughter, all of whom were slightly injured, with the exception of the daughter. Speaking of the accident, Mr. Rogers said:

"My recollection of what happened as the cars came together is rather vague. We were proceeding southward at a very rapid rate of speed. Fortunately my wife, my children and myself were seated in the rear. The accident occurred after we had passed a switch, beyond which was a curve, where the track skirts what appeared to be an embankment. We did not seem to lessen in speed as we neared this curve. There was absolutely no warning so far as my memory can recall before the crash came. As we dashed around the curve the cars met with terrific force. With the velocity of a cannon ball ours fairly plowed the entire length of the other car before it lost its impetus. The crash was succeeded by one of the most awful scenes I have ever witnessed, by shrieks and groans of wounded men, women and children that lay scattered about the tracks or buried amid the debris.

"Mrs. Rogers, our two children and myself were hurled toward the front over the seats and thrown into the aisle beneath a mass of debris in which were buried dozens of other passengers. I have no recollection of how we managed to free ourselves from the wreckage. All of us but the boy, however, were able to help ourselves. He sustained a broken leg and had to be dug out of the mass of wreckage.

"Where the responsibility for the accident rests I cannot say. It was said that our motorman ought to have waited on the switch for the down car, but that for some reason he concluded to take chances of reaching the next switch. How much truth there is in this story I cannot state."

WILL ASK FOR EWING STREET

THE SOUTHWESTERN COMPANY WANTS CHANGE IN ROUTE.

To Avoid Sharp Double Curve and Extra Trackage—Would Give Up Fulton Street.

Attorney N. D. Doughman, representing the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company, stated to The Sentinel this afternoon that his company would soon go before the city council and ask for a change in the route granted through the city.

The interurban line would like to leave Fairfield avenue at Baker street, go easteward on Baker to Ewing and north on Ewing to Pearl, and the council will be petitioned to grant this change. If it is done the interurban company will surrender Fulton street. As its franchise now exists the Huntington line will come down Fairfield avenue to Brackenridge street, where it makes a sharp curve to the west for a short distance along a narrow street, then turning again sharply upon Fulton street to proceed northward to Pearl. The projectors point out that these two curves are not at all desirable, and there is the additional fact that it swings the line one square out of its way to the westward, necessitating the construction of two squares of extra track.

The application for the change in right-of-way will clash somewhat with the desires of the Fort Wayne Traction company, which has already expressed a desire to use Ewing street, from Jefferson to Baker, and thence on Baker to Fairfield avenue.

NORTHERN PACIFIC FIGHT.

New York, May 27.—Interest in the question as to whether or not the control of the Northern Pacific railroad changed hands at the time of the recent corner in the stock was revived today by the circulation of a report that the Union Pacific syndicate bought some time ago all of the Northern Pacific holdings of Edward D. Adams. In addition it was said that Mr. Adams, who is a member of the company's board of directors and executive committee, went short of the stock from 5,000 to 7,000 shares and was one of those forced to settle at a high price after the pushing through of the corner. Mr. Adams was regarded as the representative of the Deutsch bank of Berlin in the Northern Pacific deal, but a recent dispatch from Berlin denied that the bank's holdings had been sold. Neither of the contestants in Northern Pacific has been willing to make any statement recently concerning the control of the property, and it is thought no official announcement will be made before the annual meeting in the fall for the election of directors.

WILL REVISE CREED

Presbyterian General Assembly Unanimously Adopts the Revision Report.

REJOICING FOLLOWS VOTING.

Philadelphia, May 27.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church today adopted amid great enthusiasm and without a dissenting voice the majority report of the revision committee. It was a striking finale to the four days' of earnest discussion in which the giants of the church had taken part.

The adoption of the report followed amendment of section B in accordance with the resolution introduced by Rev. Dr. J. D. Moffatt, president of Washington and Jefferson university, in which the word "summary" was displaced by the word "statement." Other sections were amended so as to be acceptable and the report as amended was submitted as a whole to a vote. A swelling chorus of "ayes" announced that the assembly had committed itself to a change in the creedal statement of the Presbyterian church

A season of rejoicing over the disposition of the tremendous issue then followed and the singing of the doxology was followed by prayer.

New York city was selected as the place of holding the general assembly of 1902.

THE DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

When the Presbyterian general assembly met today there appeared to be a disposition on the part of the commissioners to bring the debate on creed revision to an end as soon as possible.

The majority of the delegates are impatient to settle the question so far as this assembly is concerned. There is still considerable other business of importance to be transacted and some of the subjects are expected to arouse much discussion.

Among these are the establishment of an ecclesiastical supreme court, the oversight and direction of the collecting and distributing of benevolent offerings, the plan of vacancy and supply for unemployed ministers and churches without pastors and a plan of oversight of the young people's societies.

TO MEET IN NEW YORK IN 1902.

Before proceeding to the further consideration of the question of revision, the assembly adopted the report of the committee on the next place of meeting, and selected the Fifth avenue Presbyterian church, New York, as the meeting place of the general assembly of 1902.

An amendment was offered substituting Los Angeles for New York, but Roberts, stated clerk, announced that the condition of the assembly's funds would not warrant such selection and the amendment was lost.

Invitations were also received from Denver, Milwaukee and Saratoga Springs.

The committee recommended to the next assembly the selection of Los Angeles for the assembly of 1903.

WARNS AGAINST HASTE.

When the order of the day—the revision of the confession of faith—was reached, the moderator made a few remarks advising against any hasty action today. He said there was a tendency to rush the matter so that the assembly could adjourn, and he hoped the commissioners would not get into a panicky condition and do something which they might regret.

He suggested, however, that all speeches be limited and a motion to limit them to ten minutes was unanimously carried.

James D. Moffatt, D. D., president of Washington and Jefferson university, who on Saturday gave notice that he would offer an amendment to the majority report, was then recognized by the moderator.

DR. MOFFATT EXPLAINS

Dr. Moffatt explained that he was moved to offer the amendment to recommendation B because of the small majority which on Saturday voted to retain the recommendation in the revision committee's report. Objection had not been made, he said, to the original recommendation because of ambiguity in certain portions and his object in amending was to render the vote of the assembly unanimous on whatever action might be taken.

"I hoped to amend recommendation B," continued Dr. Moffatt, "to meet all objections and to give it new wording. Many good men who opposed the original form were alarmed by the word 'summary.'

"I have made a simple change, striking out the word 'summary' and substituting 'statement,' which expresses just what we have in view.

"Again, there is nothing in the original report as to what shall be done with the summary. I wish to remove all ambiguity and have it stated plainly that the committee to be appointed will be required to report to the next assembly and that a recommendation be made to the next assembly to submit the entire subject to the Presbyteries."

THE AMENDMENT.

Dr. Moffatt's amendment is as follows:

"We recommend that this committee be instructed to prepare and to submit to the next general assembly for such disposition as may be judged to be wise, a brief statement of the reformed faith, expressed, as far as possible, in untechnical terms. The said statement is to be prepared with a view to its being employed to give information and a better understanding of our doctrinal beliefs, and not with a view to its becoming a substitute for an alternative of our confession of faith."

Dr. Nicolls, of St. Louis, a leader of the minority party, in a brief speech, heartily seconded the amendment, which action drew forth considerable applause.

Other seconding speeches were made by Dr. Herrick Johnson, of Chicago; Former Moderator Charles A. Dickey, of Philadelphia; Dr. William McKibben, Cincinnati; Dr. George B. Baker, Philadelphia; Dr. William C. Roberts, Transylvania, Ky.; Dr. W. H. W. Boyle, Pueblo, Col.; Dr. D. J. Saunders, president of the Bible university, Charlotte, N. C.; Dr. David A. Cunningham, Washington, Pa., and Dr. David S. Kennady, Allegheny, Pa.

As each of the above commissioners, who represented all shades of opinion in the assembly, rose to speak for the amendment, a wave of applause swept over the vast assemblage.

ADOPTED UNANIMOUSLY.

The amendment was adopted by a viva voice vote, not one voice being raised in opposition to it.

The question was then on the adoption of the majority report, and Dr. Johnson moved that the three recommendations contained in the report be taken up and the motion was carried.

Recommendation A, which calls for the appointment of a revision committee, was adopted, with only a few votes against it.

Recommendation B, as amended, went through without a sign of opposition.

Recommendation C, on motion of Dr. Baker, of Philadelphia, was amended so that the amendments to be prepared by the committee for several chapters of the confession of faith shall be made "either by modification of the text or by declaratory statement, but so far as possible by declaratory statement"

This recommendation was also adopted with but little opposition.

WHOLE REPORT ADOPTED.

The question then recurred to the adoption of the report as a whole. The moderator put the question, and then there was one great roar of "aye."

Instantly the assembly rose en masse and sang the doxology.

The moderator then led in prayer. The end to the great discussion, which had continued into the fourth day, came so quickly that it took everybody by surprise. Dr. Moffatt, who introduced the harmonizing amendment to recommendation B, was surrounded by a crowd which congratulated him on his skill in bringing the matter to such a satisfactory issue.

After the assembly had agin settled down Dr. Baker offered a resolution that the present revision committee be continued, that the committee be increased to twenty-one, that

The assembly proceeded to the consideration of the report of the special committee on judicial commissions.

COURT OF LAST RESORT.

This report recommends the establishment of a court of last resort to be styled the "permanent judicial commission of the general assembly," for the hearing and final determination of judicial cases

Rev. Dr. Charles F. Hubbard, of Buffalo, moved to recommit the report to the special committee, which should be increased to ten members, with instructions to make further report at the next assembly.

Rev. Dr. G. W. F. Birch, of New York, a member of the special committee, opposed recommittal on the ground that some definite action is necessary at this time because of the delay in hearing cases, and advocated the adoption of the report in the interest of peace and justice.

The principal paragraph of the report was amended slightly by the insertion of the words "Which the general assembly shall not elect to try before its whole body," and is as follows:

"The court of last resort for the hearing and determination of judicial cases, which the general assembly shall not elect to try before its whole body, shall be styled 'the permanent judicial commission of the general assembly' and shall be composed of eight ministers and seven ruling elders, who shall be elected by the general assembly. At the first election fifteen persons shall be elected annually to serve for one year, five for two years, and five for three years, and thereafter five persons shall be elected annually to serve for three years.

"Any vacancy may be filled by the general assembly at any meeting thereof by the election of a person to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term."

The report was adopted. The report of the special committee on missionary and benevolent offerings was under discussion when the hour for recess arrived.

WINDSOR DWELLING ROOMS.

It is a popular error to suppose that the dwelling rooms at Windsor are very sumptuous, says the London Chronicle. The private apartments are scarcely worthy of an ordinary country gentleman's seat. Queen Elizabeth is responsible for a great number of them, and they were built rather hurriedly by her orders. She had taken refuge at Windsor from the plague which was raging in London, and her maids of honor and attendants revolted at the uncomfortable condition of their rooms, which were low, dark and cold. The queen herself was furious because her dinner was invariably served up stone cold, but being of an inquiring mind she discovered that the kitchen was nearly half a mile from the dining room, and straightway built the present kitchen, which is very large and commodious. Elizabeth built the Octagon Library, which she is still said to haunt, and where she was frequently seen, it is said, last year.

SOUTHERN MOUNTAINEERS.

It is odd to think that the southern mountaineer was not discovered until the outbreak of the civil war, although he was nearly a century old then, and it is really startling to realize that when one speaks of the southern mountaineers he speaks of nearly 3,000,000 people who live in eight southern states—Virginia and Alabama and the southern states between—and occupy a region equal in area to the combined area of Ohio and Pennsylvania, as big, say, as the German empire, and richer, perhaps, in timber and mineral deposits than any other region of similar extent in the world. This region was and is an unknown land. It has been aptly called Appalachian America and the work of discovery is yet going on.

The American mountaineer was discovered, I say, at the beginning of the war, when the confederate leaders were counting on the presumption that Mason and Dixon's line was the dividing line between the north and south and formed, therefore, the plan of marching an army from Wheeling to some point on the lakes, and thus dissevering the north at one blow. The plan seemed so feasible that it is said to have materially aided the sale of confederate bonds in England, but when Captain Garnett, a West Point graduate, started to carry it out he got no farther than Harper's Ferry. When he struck the mountains he struck enemies who shot at his men from ambush, cut down bridges before him, carried the news of his march to the federals, and Garnett himself fell with a bullet from a mountaineer's squirrel rifle at Harper's Ferry.—Scribner's Magazine.

A NEW ROMANCE WRITER.

George Horton, who is likely to make a hit with his romance, "Like Another Helen," is a young American who was born in Wayne county, New York, in 1859. At an early age he was taken to Michigan by his father, who bought a farm in the new state that was then regarded as in the far west. Young Horton was educated in the district school and Marshall high school. Then he was sent to Ann Arbor, where he graduated at the high school, and afterward at the University of Michigan, in the classical course. Mr. Horton was given a separate diploma for especial excellence in Greek and Latin. After graduating he taught school for a while, and then entered upon newspaper work in Chicago. In 1893 he was sent to Athens as consul by President Cleveland. He remained in Greece five years and a half, during which time he made a careful study of the language and people. Since his return he has devoted himself to literary work and contributing to various periodicals. His publications are "Songs of the Lowly," poems (1892, published by subscription); "In Unknown Seas," poems, 1895; "Aphroessa," poems, 1897; "Constantine," originally written in modern Greek by the author and run as a serial in the Athens Asty, and "A Fair Brigand."

EDISON'S PLATINUM.

A story will serve to throw new light upon Edison's character. At one time there was great fear in the scientific world that the deposits of platinum were about to become extinct. Edison thereupon organized a correspondence bureau, and sent letters to every American consul upon the globe, to British consuls in ports where the United States had no representative, and to scientific men in every land. The letter gave a clear statement respecting the metal, how and where it was found and might be found, how it could be identified and treated, and much other information. In each letter were inclosed samples of platinum as found in the various bed rocks. This may seem to be a small undertaking, but when it is remembered that the letters were sent off by the thousands, that the postage was ten cents to each letter, and that the pieces of platinum inclosed were almost as valuable as metallic gold, the cost of the achievement is readily seen. While he did not succeed in greatly increasing the output of platinum, he set at rest all fear of its extinction and thus earned the gratitude of every scientific investigator.

Prussia gave 1,228 medals last year to 614 couples who celebrated diamond and golden wedding anniversaries.

GOVERNMENT WINS

Dooley case, made the announcement that in the Downs case, which questions the validity of duties levied on oranges imported from Porto Rico after the Foraker act, the majority of the court would, as Mr. White stated it, reverse itself and hold the duty valid.

He said the opinion in the Downs case, which the court would announce later, would thus lead to the inconsistency of the court deciding that after the Foraker act Porto Rico ceased to be a part of the United States and before the Foraker act it was a part of the United States.

Justice White said the court would later, in the Downs case, hold that congress had the power under the Porto Rican tariff act to impose a tariff duty on goods coming from Porto Rico. He expressed himself as unable to conceive on what theory they thus proceeded and expressed the opinion that it was due to confusion of thought in the DeLima case.

It was settled law, by the decisions in the Woodruff case and the Houston case, he said, that the power of congress to levy an impost duty did not extend to any territory that was a part of the United States, and the result of the majority opinion in the Downs case thus would be to bring about a state of things where territory which was a part of the United States before the Foraker act became a foreign territory after the Foraker act.

The dissenting justices throughout their dissents took occasion to criticise sharply the apparent conflict between the majority ruling in the DeLima case and that which would follow later in the Downs case.

OTHER CASES.

After Justice White concluded his opinion Justice Brown announced the decision of the court in the case of Armstrong vs. the United States, covering the shipment of goods to Porto Rico. This case, the court said, was similar to the Dooley case. While duties prior to the treaty were proper, those subsequent to the treaty were not.

The judgment of the circuit court was reversed.

Justice White announced the dissent of Justices Gray, Shiras, McKenna and himself.

Justice Brown then announced the opinion in the case of Downes vs. Bidwell, relating to a shipment of oranges from Porto Rico to New York after the enactment of the Foraker act. The objections to the lower court's jurisdiction were overruled.

In the Downes case the supreme court decides that while Porto Rico is a territory of the United States it is not such for tariff purposes and that the Foraker act is constitutional. The judgment of the circuit court was affirmed. A dissenting opinion was handed down by Justice White in which Justices Shiras and McKenna concurred.

Justice Brown then proceeded to show the differences of the question in this case from that involved in the first case decided, this difference being based on time and the course taken by the executive and legislative branches of the government.

He said there was considerable divergence in the opinion of the court in the past and too much weight should not be given to particular phases of past decisions, such as that referring to the supreme authority of congress, as that might refer to the supreme authority of congress under the constitution. After analyzing the case of Longborough vs. Blake, the justice summed up the conditions under which territories were not in the same position as states.

THE DELIMA CASE.

The Delima case involved the importation of goods into the United States from Porto Rico after the ratification of the treaty of Paris and before the passage of the Porto Rican act.

Delima & Co., doing business in New York, imported from San Juan, Porto Rico, during the months of June and July, 1899, certain sugars, the product of Porto Rico.

Upon these sugars the collector at New York demanded and collected about $13,000 as customs duties.

Delima & Co. sued Bidewell, the collector, as an individual, in the supreme court of the state of New York, to recover back the duties thus paid, amount in all to $13,145, alleging that they were unlawfully demanded, in violation of the constitution and collected by duress, the collector exacting the payment of the duties as a condition to the delivery of the sugars. On the petition of the collector the suit was removed to the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York, which sustained a demurrer to the complaint both on the ground that no cause for action was stated and that the court had no jurisdiction. From the judgment dismissing the complaint Delima & Co. prosecute error from the court.

Stop Your Cough and Avoid Future Trouble.

We Will Guarantee That We Can Do It For You.

Our Vinol is the Remedy for all Pulmonary Affections

Vinol is a preparation that is delicious to take.

It consists of a delicate table wine in which has been dissolved the active curative principles that are found in the liver of the live cod, and to which cod-liver oil owes its reputation as a remedy for coughs, colds and all wasting diseases.

If there is any one who has a cough, a tendency to take cold easily, or a dread of consumption, we would like to have them call and permit us to explain what we know about Vinol and why we believe it will cure all such troubles more surely and quickly than any other remedy ever given to the public.

Following is a letter which has just come to hand and which shows how beneficially Vinol acted in one instance:

"I had a severe cough of long standing. I was advised by friends to give your Vinol a trial, which I did. Before taking it I had tried many other remedies for coughs without obtaining any relief. With Vinol it was different. I have now used four bottles of it, and am pleased to say my cough has almost entirely left me. I have been decidedly benefited by its use in every way. Very truly yours."—H. E. SMALL, Boston, Mass.

Vinol acts beneficially upon the digestive organs, enabling them to obtain for themselves the elements from which are made firm healthy flesh tissue, sound muscle, strong bone structure and pure blood.

We recommend Vinol unreservedly.

If you will call on us at our store, we will tell you why we have such faith in this new wine of cod-liver oil.

We guarantee that if you suffer from any symptoms that indicate troubles for which we know Vinol is intended, we will refund to you your money if you don't find Vinol helps you.

EARLY CLOSING.

The early closing movement has struck Fort Wayne in earnest, the latest to fall in line being the music dealers, who will close their places of business at 6 o'clock, commencing July 1st. It has been the custom to remain open until 9 and 10 o'clock and even later every night, and the new order of things will be greatly appreciated by the employes. There is also some talk among dry goods merchants to close at noon on Saturdays during the summer months to give the clerks a half holiday. This is the custom in nearly every large city and it has been found entirely satisfactory in every case.

LOGANSPORT IS COMING.

(Logansport Reporter.)

Logansport lodge No. 66, B. P. O. Elks, will run a special train to Fort Wayne June 12, on the occasion of the meeting of the grand lodge of the state in that city. The delegation from this city will be accompanied by the Elks band and will have headquarters at the New Aveline hotel in Fort Wayne. The members of the local lodge will go with the intention of securing the meeting of 1902 for this city and anyone who knows the timber of which No. 66 is composed also knows that they get whatever they go after.

John, formerly president of DePauw university, will appear at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ in his his lecture, "Did Man Make God, or Did God Make Man?" The lecture is a reply to the agnostic teachings of the late Colonel Ingersoll, and has been warmly received by audiences in every part of the country. Dr. John is brilliant and forceful, and will doubtless greatly please his Fort Wayne audience this evening. He will be introduced by Rev. A. S. Preston, of Wayne Street M. E. church, who is an intimate personal friend of Dr. John.

MARRIED SUNDAY EVENING.

Morton J. Mills and Sophie Wiemann were married last evening at 5 o'clock at the parsonage of St. Mary's church. Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded couple and the wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Wiemann, at No. 102 East Lewis street, where a sumptuous wedding supper was served to the families of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends. After supper there was a reception, many friends calling and music being one of the principal features. The bride is well known in Fort Wayne musical circles, being a singer of much ability, and the groom is the well known traveling representative of the Cudahy Packing company. They will leave immediately for Marion, Ind., to reside, that city being Mr. Mills' headquarters.

NEWSPAPER SUPPRESSED.

St. Petersburg, May 27.—The prohibition of the publication of the Novoe Vremya for a week because of its editorial article on the labor troubles is creating an immense sensation as indicating extraordinary nervousness on the part of the government. The Novoe Vremya is second only to the Moscow Viedomosti in conservatism and is usually allowed greater latitude than are the other papers. The editorial in question is mild as compared with many governmental publications on the labor situation in more quiet times. It merely said the operatives were poorly paid for excessively hard work and were beginning to be influenced by western literature, and suggested that the government carry on the work begun for emancipation and enforce social reforms.

Absolute zero is the point at which, as has been determined from experiments with gases, matter would be without a trace of heat—could be cooler no farther. This point is 273 however, absolutely unobtainable. degrees below centigrade zero. A degree of cold so intense as this is, however, absolutely unattainable. Even the meteorites which swarm in interstellar space must be heated to some extent by the radiance of the stars.

Students of the strenuous can get some fresh light by watching the South Carolina senatorial campaign after Benjamin R. Tillman gets his coat off and begins to saw wood.

Another "interested party" has come forward with the announcement of startling disclosures in the Neely case. It may be, but it looks now, as it has for some time, as though he would have to pry the case open with a crowbar to get anything out of it.

Ninety-seven young girls in Trenton, N. J., have signed the following pledge: "I hersby promise not to keep company with or to marry any man who is not a total abstainer from the use of intoxicating liquors, including wine, beer and cidsr, and I promise to abstain from the same myself. I won't marry a man to save him."

The promoters of the proposed Indiana coal combine deny that the consolidation is to be anything of the nature of a trust. It does not make much difference what such combination is called. When a "community of interest" of any sort has been established it is usually found that something expansive has gotten beneath the price to the consumer.

Doubtless the death of the two trolley-car motormen who caused the horrible wreck near Albany, N. Y., Sunday, has saved them from prosecution for manslaughter. That two men of ordinary sense would race their cars at tremendous speed into a blind curve is almost inconceivable. Yet that was the cause of the accident, the loss of five lives and the maiming of half a hundred other passengers. There was a race between two cars moving in opposite directions for a switch and the safety of the passengers appears to have been a consideration entirely dropped by the motormen in their anxiety to reach the point desired. Neither was fit for the immense responsibility of his position. The trustworthy locomotive engineer or motorman has never absent from his mind the lives in his charge.

It cuts little figure whether it be the king or his coachman when either gets on the wrong side of the stock market. Report now is that Emperor William of Germany has lost nearly all of his private fortune in unfortunate speculations entrusted to Commercial Councillor Sandem, who appears to have duped the kaiser into dumping his millions into a ten-per-cent-a-week scheme conducted much like some of the "skin games" that from time to time have been uncovered in New York. A well-plated gold-brick will always sell.

Both United States senators from South Carolina have, as a result of a fierce political fight, resigned. Their resignations take effect next September, and meanwhile they will canvass the state, each seeking a vindication at the hands of the people. This contest promises to supply every bitter and strenuous feature that has been missing from modern American politics. Tillman is what he probably himself would term an intense commoner. He sprang from the soil. By sheer force of rugged ability and indomitable character he has raised himself to a political pre-eminence in his state. He is radical, courageous and under provocation bitter, while his talents, though somewhat in the rough, are of high order. McLaurin is in some respects Tillman's opposite. He is a modern exemplar of ante-bellum aristocracy of the south. He is a man of only moderate ability, exclusiveness and polish. He boasts a distinguished ancestry and as fighter is inferior to Tillman and different. Senator McLaurin has lately attracted much attention throughout the country and aroused much bitter feeling in his own state by repudiation of the present leaders and principles of the democratic party. In short, he has in sympathy, if not otherwise, allied himself to the republican party. This has provoked the bitter hostility of Tillman and a personal fight of malignant tendencies has been on. Tillman challenged McLaurin to join him in resigning from the senate. McLaurin accepted the challenge and the fight has been taken before the people for settlement. It will be a desperate political duel and will be watched with absorbed interest from all parts of the country.

WILL PROBE PAPER TRUST.

Toronto, May 27.—The Canadian Press association has been advised by Hon. Mr. Fielding, minister of finances, that the government will conduct the investigation and summon all necessary witnesses in the inquiry into the alleged papermakers' combination. The association had intended prosecuting Mr. Fielding's communication clears up all doubts as to the government's position in the matter and meets all the claims of the press association. Eminent counsel will be employed in the inquiry, which will open this afternoon before Judge Techarena in Montreal.

SAMPSON MAY RETIRE.

New York, May 27.—According to a Washington dispatch to the World, it is reported in naval circles at the capital that Rear Admiral Sampson may ask for voluntary retirement on account of his health, and that the navy department will grant his request. He will not regularly be retired under the statutory clause until late next winter. No official application has been received at Washington from him, and he may make none until after Secretary Long's return.

A FIGHT OF FAITH

ELOQUENT MEMORIAL SERMON BY REV. J. W. BAILEY.

RECALLED VETERANS' VALOR

MAGNIFICENT TRIBUTE TO THE AMERICAN SOLDIER.

LEAVES A GLORIOUS LEGACY

PASTOR POINTS OUT THE NEEDS OF TODAY.

To an immense congregation, combining alike the war scarred and gray-haired veterans of 1861-65 with their wives and daughters younger veterans of the later conflict with Spain, Sons of Veterans, the various ladies' auxiliary organizations and patriotic citizens unattached to any of these organizations, Rev. J. Webster Bailey, at Plymouth church Sunday morning, delivered the annual memorial sermon. It was a masterful effort, thrilling with a patriotism that found a responsive sentiment in the hearts of its hearers.

Rev. Bailey's text was "Fight the Good Fight of Faith," found in I Timothy, 6:12, and after citing the fact that the United States was a country on which the sun never sets, he said in part:

"This is a country over which the stars and stripes, emblem of liberty are floating this morning, with none to molest or make us afraid. Foreigners have sometimes accused Americans of being over-proud of their country. But when the youth of today remembers all that has been paid in the past to purchase the safety and peace which he enjoys, he immediately forgives himself for a pride which may appear to some boastful.

"No forefathers have had their deeds recounted like our forefathers. Look with a jealous eye on any attempt to omit one line from that history. Let our children forget the past at Thermopylae, if need be, but never the narrow bridge so valiantly defended at Lexington. To know that Caesar crossed the Rubicon, and why he crossed it, is of less importance to our American youth than to know that Washington crossed the Delaware, and why he crossed it.

FATHERS AND BROTHERS.

"But I remember that on this memorial Sabbath we are not commemorating the deeds of forefathers, but the deeds of our fathers and brothers. Into the very faces of many of them we may look while we speak of them. On the graves of others who marched with these, we may place our floral tributes and leave them to their peaceful rest. Others who fell in battle have no slab to mark this resting place. Whence they fell and where they sleep are known only to God. But 'the fittest place for man to die is where he dies for man.' To love peace and to pursue it is our trade. To know how to defend our country's honor is our secret reserve, subject to the country's call.

"War was not our trade. And only to maintain a kingly principle could the men of America be persuaded to 'turn aside to fight.' When that principle was maintained, though at the cost of a million precious lives, the remnant returned again to their peaceful avocations. All sectional differences north and south are passing away. The narrowing breach was well nigh closed when those who once wore the gray marched side by side on Cuba's soil, or bivouacked in the camps, restlessly awaiting orders to sail.

MIGHTIEST FACTORS.

"The mightiest factors in our nation's history and progress have ever been great and living principles. Armies disband, but these remain. Men die, but these live on. Swords are turned to pruning hooks, but principles abide the same as yesterday, today and forever.

"When behind every bullet is a motive true, behind every cannon ball a vital truth, then and then only can war be right. Munitions of war are but the means, and men themselves the agents for emphasizing the fact that right must prevail at all hazzards.

"No sentiments take so high a place in human lives as the sentiments of patriotism and religion. The soldiers' graves speak to us more eloquently than human lips and bid us preserve what they fought to create. So, we have met during the quiet hours of this holy Sabbath day to connect and forever unite the two great sentiments of human life known as patriotism and religion. These sentiments represent the deepest convictions and noblest aspirations of the human heart. We have met in the dawn of the twentieth century to recall the deeds of the fathers in the century that has just slipped away from us. The new meaning given to the stars and stripes in 1865 has been made clear in the closing days of the old century. San Juan hill and Santiago and Manila revealed to the world that we are a single nation and forever united to foster civil and religious liberty. We have learned anew the bravery and gallantry of our soldiers in victorious battle. We have learned of the merciful spirit with which our soldiers temper the horrors of war.

"The great test of our government came not in the struggle with Spain, but in the civil war, and the cost of it all is told in the story of Bull Run and the Shenandoah and the Wilderness and Murfreesboro, and Cold Harbor, and Lookout Mountain and Chickamauga, and in the silent monuments in the national cemeteries. But the results are told in a country reunited, invincible, a nation gloriously loving truth and gloriously battling for it when needs be.

"God is not so much opposed to inequality as He is to injustice and iniquity. The lesson of history is that God hates iniquity. May the great God who has led us on guide us in the future until we stand alone in history as the nation now greatest in liberty, greatest also in truth and greatest in Christian love.

"THEY DID THEIR DUTY."

Rev. J. N. Field, of the First Baptist church, aroused the audience to the highest pitch in his tribute to the veterans. In part the speaker said:

"The flag which is displayed upon this stage this afternoon was purchased at a tremendous cost of men and money, yet it is well worth the price. To the men who laid their lives on their country's altar, to the living no less than to the dead, to the private no less than to the officer, I am profoundly grateful. I feel like taking off my hat when in the presence of an old soldier. Today we are reminded again of the times when men were called upon to discharge a most perilous duty. When within forty-eight hours after the president's call, more men were on the way than were needed, and above the tramp, tramp, tramp of thousands of feet was heard the imposing chorus, 'We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand strong.' It was not 'Home, Sweet Home' that was the air, but 'My Country 'Tis of Thee' was the tune that inspired the men to deeds of valor. What parting scenes, what bitter strifes, what breaking up of families! Men died to make men free. When we think of the principles for which the civil war was waged, we cannot forget them, nor would we if we could. Not so long as the battle-scarred face or an empty sleeve is seen on the streets; not so long as the sons and daughters of veterans live and the union stands, shall the men of blue be forgotten. Why? Simply because they did their duty.

"The best thing that can possibly be said of a man is that he did his duty to his family, to his country and to his God. Moses chose the cross instead of the crown. He was the Abraham Lincoln of his time. The best thing that can be said of him is that he did his duty. As I look into the faces of these men this afternoon, and as I think of your services and that of the great number of men who died by your sides, I think, here is a body of men who dared to do their duty.

"Peace has always come after conflicts. You men faced emergencies because you felt that it was your duty. This means something. It is not hard to do your duty when there is no spirit of danger. To step out on the battlefield means a display of every particle of manhood. That doing of his duty in the crisis of his country's life made the name of Grant memorable. The men who were raised up and inspired to do their duty in those days are the kind of men we need today. We can find the same willingness among men to do their duty now as then—the sons of veterans, and those who are not sons of veterans—and every true American citizen has the same stuff in him which you men manifested. Long live the memory of the Grand Army of the Republic. 'Twas the blood of courage that flowed in the veins of the veterans of the civil war. May that same royal, loyal, blood continue to flow in the sons, who will continue to observe Memorial day when the veterans and their sons shall have passed away."

AUBURN PIONEER DIES.

Auburn, Ind., May 27.—Jacob Lochner, a DeKalb county pioneer, died here Saturday night after an illness of a week. Mr. Lochner came to this county when it was largely covered by forests and has resided here continuously since. His sister, Mrs. Margaret Schaffer, of Fort Wayne, and children, Mrs. J. E. Beaty, Mrs. Charles Bartels and Peter and John C. Lochner, were at his bedside when the end came. The interment took place at Leo today.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. may8eod&w

The boiling point of hydrogen, according to a new determination made recently by Prof. Dewar, is 252.5 degrees below zero on the centigrade scale, or 20 degrees above absolute zero. Investigations as to the temperature of solid hydrogen are now being carried out and show a still closer approach to absolute zero.

ASKS FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

JOHN NIEMAN SUES THE FORT WAYNE GAS COMPANY.

Alleges Severe Injuries as Result of Carelessness of Employe - Court News.

John Nieman this morning filed a suit against the Fort Wayne Gas company, claiming damages in the sum of $10,000 for injuries received while in their employ, on June 25, 1900. The complaint was penned by W. G. and H. Colerick and alleges:

That while Contractor Peter was building the intercepting sewer at a point on Superior street, by excavating the earth under a gas main, the support being taken away the pipe broke, allowing gas in large quantities to escape. The defendant immediately sent a force of workmen to repair the damage, said force being under the foremanship of Samuel Gordon. Gordon selected a plank, which he instructed the plaintiff to place across the tramway used by Peter for transferring dirt taken from the sewer to a point down the street. This tramway was across the sewer trench, which at that point was about twenty feet deep. Plaintiff was ordered to stand on the said plank and assist in depressing the point of the pipe for the purpose of mending it. While he was so standing the tram car came along in plain view of Foreman Gordon and striking the plank upon which the plaintiff was standing, knocked it from under him, and he fell into the trench and against the pipe, sustaining great injuries. The plaintiff alleges that he was standing with his back to the approaching car and that the foreman was standing away at a safe distance and could easily have warned him of the impending danger but neglected to do so. In the fall plaintiff sustained a fracture to his hip, injury to his spine, and many other painful bruises and injuries. He was taken to a hospital and his medical treatment and medicines cost him over $750. He was at the time an able-bodied man, capable of earning $2 a day and is now and always will be a helpless cripple, unable to earn anything.

He therefore asks judgment in the sum of $10,000 and all other proper relief.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

Ida C. Gimple has made application for a divorce.

Eleanor Prange has been declared of unsound mind by a commission of which Justice Bullerman was the chairman.

Judge Aiken will adjourn court tomorrow evening for a few days and will go to Albion to sit on the Noble county bench for Judge Adair for several days.

In the case of Steinfelt vs. Niedinger the plaintiff being dead a motion for abatement was made by the defendants.

The case of Bandt vs. Gerke is on trial in the superior court.

A law which was passed by the last legislature and which, it is believed, will affect the salaries paid the janitors at the court house, has been discovered. The law plainly states that all persons engaged by the county commissioners on any public work shall receive not less than 20 cents per hour. The matter has been submitted to County Attorney Barnett for an opinion. The helpers and janitors are now receiving about 15 cents per hour, and if the new law applies to them it will make a difference of many hundreds of dollars in the county payroll.

On Saturday Judge O'Rourke sent Charles Huesner, arrested for larceny, to the reformatory south for from one to seven years. Sheriff Stout will leave with the prisoner tonight.

Mary C. Drenary has commenced divorce proceedings against Samuel Drenary. The parties live in Jefferson township and the complaint alleges that they were married in October, 1899. The husband is charged with failure to provide and is accused of abusing the plaintiff and occasionally knocking her down and kicking her.

Charles W. Porter has filed his bond as notary public.

The county commissioners are today allowing gravel road bills under the old law. This is the last settlement under the old statute and hereafter the settlements and allowances will be with and to the road superintendents instead of the supervisors.

The county council on Saturday disposed of all the business before it, as outlined in The Sentinel. In a few instances the amounts asked for were cut down, the clerk being allowed but one typewriter, instead of two as asked for. The other claims were allowed nearly as requested.

The total amount of land in the Philippine Islands is approximately 73,345,415 acres. Of this amount it is estimated that about 4,940,000 acres are owned by individuals, leaving in public lands 68,405,415. The religious orders own about 400,000 acres.

PRAISE AND HONOR

FOR VETERAN SOLDIER, LIVING AND DEAD.

TEMPLE MEMORIAL SERVICE

GREAT AUDIENCE PRESENT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

WAS THRILLED WITH FERVOR

THREE SPEAKERS IN ELOQUENT SYMPOSIUM.

The veteran soldier, living and dead, his bravery, his valor and his unselfish devotion to the cause of his country were the themes which thrilled a great audience at Masonic Temple Sunday afternoon on the occasion of the annual public memorial exercises. Practically every seat in parquet, boxes, circle and gallery of the theater was occupied with an enthusiastic audience that cordially applauded the tributes paid by eloquent speakers to the honored veterans.

The stage, on which were seated the speakers of the day, the musicians and representatives of the various soldiers' organizations, was wreathed in patriotic color, while in the central portion of the parquet was a large delegation of the gray-haired veterans. Lieut. George Zollinger presided. The scripture lesson and invocation were given by Rev. J. W. Bailey, and interspersing the exercises the capable choir of Grace Reformed church sang patriotic songs.

"THE OLD GUARD."

Rev. D. T. Williams, of the South Congregational church, spoke on "The Old Guard," and he paid a masterly tribute to the sturdy veterans who bore unflinchingly the brunt of the great struggle. In part he said:

"It was the boys who were dusty blouses who did the real fighting and were the real saviors of our country. Forty years ago, as you will remember, a peculiar condition of things confronted us. A prosperous nation was divided. A house was arrayed against itself. On one side there was a people devoted to state sovereignty On the other a people who wanted a united country. On the southern side there was courage and heroism; on the northern side there was equal courage; but the north possessed something the south did not have. In the north there was patriotism and integrity.

"The federal soldiers carried the stars and stripes which have ever been the emblem of liberty, victory and triumph. Under that flag Father Washington drove the British from the land, and under the same flag you who wore the blue fought and won. This day has for many of us sacred memories, and should bring vividly to our memories the sacrifices and sufferings of the old guard. The fact of their suffering should make the institutions of our country all the more dear to us. You and I ought this day to look at the shining deeds of the old guard. The spirit that urged them to victory should burn itself in our breasts that we should always go forth in our country's defense.

"The memories of those days will never pass away. Mothers sent their boys to the front with kisses and tears and said, 'Go, your country needs you.' Thirty-six years ago the conflict ended and the conquerors were merciful to the conquered. Thanks be to God that the predominating spirit of the age is peace. General Grant, the greatest general of all times, was a merciful man, as is evidenced when he returned to General Lee the proffered sword. I say Grant was perhaps the greatest general of all times. One thing I know. He was greater than Alexander, because he was purer. He was greater than Caesar because he was less selfish. He was greater than Napoleon because he was more tender. All honor to the old officers and all the old guard for the part they played.

"But the women should not be forgotten, for they were brave, too. You, boys in blue, should consider one factor that helped you. You remember how some of you were sick. The hearts of the women were touched and they left their comfortable homes in the north to nurse you and followed the camp and made it possible for you to do the things which you did. Many of you would have died but for the kindly ministrations of the women of the north land. Remember, then, the noble mothers and daughter who ministered to you and prayed for you in camps and hospitals; for to them is due some of the credit of your gallant deeds."

MEANING OF MEMORIAL DAY.

Rev. J. A. Patterson, of Simpson M. E. church, had the subject, "What Memorial Day Means," and in part he said:

"The consciousness that war is right, gives a man ten-fold power. The American Eagle that shrieked "freedom" amid the smoke of battle on the field of Appomattox, the red, white and blue that flung its glorious folds to the breeze at El Caney, and pushed its way into the tangled depths of the Philippine Islands these are but emblems of the eternal truths formulated in the constitution of the United States that every living man is entitled to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. To set their truth high on its pedestal when a world may see it, and to protect it from vandal hands the men and women of this land will count their very lives as nothing. They will give a Lincoln, they will give a Garfield, they will give a Lawton. But the truth—the truth must live.

SURPRISED THE WORLD.

"That which has surprised the other nations of the world, and which has been a notable characteristic of the American people, is the promptness with which forces not visible on the surface, have been marshalled when the hour came when they were needed. In other words, the remarkable resourcefulness of the country. This suggests a kindred feature equally noticeable among the United States troops, and that is, an intelligent appreciation of the situation among the rank and file. There were thousands of private soldiers who were as well-informed as to the true state of affairs, governmental and military, as were the officers who directed their movement.

"I never look into the faces of our honored veterans without a feeling of sadness. For as each Memorial day comes round, the ranks are thinner than the year before, and the day is not far distant when the last veteran shall respond to the roll call up yonder and pass on to join the ranks of the army of God. The purpose which took you from home and loved ones years ago was accomplished. You said 'the union must be preserved at all hazards.' You said, 'The stars and stripes must float over an unbroken brotherhood of states from the lakes to the Everglades, from Plymouth Rock to the Golden Gate.'

A GLORIOUS LEGACY.

"Young men, you have received from the hands of your fathers a glorious legacy. See that you honorably discharge the trusts committed to your hands. Perpetuate the principles of justice and liberty after so great a sacrifice. If you shall never be called upon to take up arms against the enemies of liberty, let me remind you that there are inward battles as fierce as any ever waged, and which call for the highest qualities of manly courage.

"Count your right of franchise as a sacred trust and sell it not, as you value your birth-right. Never was youth so favored as he who lives in this dawning of the new century, under the protecting folds of Old Glory. Hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

"What the American flag says to you and me this morning, it is saying to the people in Cuba and the people in the Philippine Islands. 'Every individual has the right to live an honest life and enjoy enmolested the fruits of his industry.' Make it as difficult as possible for men to do wrong and as easy as possible for them to do right. It used to be said that might made right. Teach men that only the right makes might. Believe in education and enlightenment. Let the flag float from the top of every schoolhouse in the land. He that opens a school, closes a prison. Aid, strive with might and main to emancipate your fellows from the slavery of sin.

NEED OF TODAY.

"What every state needs today is men who will stand unequivocally for truth and righteousness, and will not deny the Christ in the halls of justice. What every city needs is men of Christlike spirit and purpose who do not forget that their citizenship is in heaven. For the Christ-made man makes the best citizen. It remains with you and me to say if anything calculated to destroy this government shall grow to such undetected and unchecked proportions. It shall not be if we are true to the Lord Jesus Christ, and fight the good fight of faith."

ITALY WANTS TAPESTRIES.

A Vienna correspondent writes that representations have recently been made by the Italian embassy as to the feasibility of the restoration to Italy of certain very valuable Goeblins tapestry which it is alleged the Austrian government appropriated from the Ducal palace in Mantua in 1866. The history of these works of art seems to be fairly well established, and the question seems to resolve itself into one of loan or annexation. The tapestry is now at Schoenbrunn, in the imperial castle, and it is not thought likely that the restoration will be effected.

At the suggestion of a Chicago justice of the peace a school is to be opened in that city in which policemen will be taught elementary grammar, so that they can express themselves more clearly on the witness stand.

HAVE ENOUGH TO HOLD WOODS

NEW CASES AGAINST SHORT CHANGE OPERATOR.

The Man's Wife Comes to Fort Wayne With Cash to Put Up for Bail—Police Notes.

Mrs. Wood, wife of Perry Woods, the short change artist who was bound over last week, arrived in the city on Saturday and she is prepared to put up $500 in cash to secure a bondsman for her husband. It is not likely, however, that the swindler will get off so easy as all that. Captain Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police, has filed another affidavit, charging him with swindling a man named Merriman out of $10 on the same day that he swindled Archie Stuart, for which he was arrested. This information has been filed in the circuit court and as soon as Woods gives bond he will be rearrested. And that will not be the end of his troubles either. Yesterday J. S. Gumpper, a contractor living on Home avenue, went over to the county jail and identified Woods as the fellow who flimflammed him out of $20 last Tuesday on a Grand Rapids train going south. Gumpper, like Stuart obligingly held an envelope full of tissue paper while Woods went into another car to see his sister and get the correct amount of money. He refused to give his name to the conductor, as he did not think that he could get his money back and he did not want to set himself up as a target for his friends. After he read a description of Woods in The Sentinel and a description of his operations he thought he would go over to the jail and see whether he was the same man. He picked him out immediately and this will make case No. 3. Mr. Woods apparently has a very gloomy prospect ahead of him.

MORE TROUBLE FOR WOODS.

A Mr. Hunter of Columbia City, arrived in the city this afternoon and paid a visit to the jail in order to establish, if possible, another case against Woods, the man held on several charges of flim-flamming. About two months ago a man answering the description of Woods succeeded in working the short change graft on Mr. Hunter at the Pennsylvania depot as the latter was about to return to his home. The matter was reported at the time, but nothing was done until today, when Capt. Stoll, of the Pensylvania police notified Mr. Hunter of Woods' arrest If Woods is the man who "worked" Mr. Hunter he will file an affidavit against him.

NOTES OF THE POLICE.

There were three cases at police court this morning. May Roberts was looked for by the police on Saturday night but was not found. May was on a glorious drunk and had been making things interesting for the people in the east end. Yesterday she was discovered, still with a fierce "bun" on and she was taken into camp. She was penitent this morning, but the judge was inexorable and sent her over for eleven days

Fred Stearns had an exciting experience. He was arrested on Saturday near the Nickel Plate depot and was locked up. Yesterday morning the mayor of Columbia City telephoned Mayor Berghoff to release a man named Labor, who had been jailed on Saturday morning for drunkenness, saying that he would send a check for $11, the amount of his fine, by the morning mail. The mayor thought the fellow was confined in the city prison, and going to the police station told the officers to release the prisoner they had, that he would be responsible for the fine The officers asked no questions but turned the fellow loose, much to his surprise and joy. Later the mayor discovered that he had released the wrong fellow and gave orders that the fellow in jail should be turned loose and Stearns should be rearrested. So it happened that yesterday afternoon Stearns, who was then perfectly sober, was rearrested and this morning he was fined $1 and costs.

John Bowers was found beastly drunk last evening on Calhoun street and was locked up. This morning Judge Louttit sent him over for eleven days.

Captain Stoll reported at the police station that on Saturday night at 9 o'clock there was three inches of snow on the ground at Plymouth.

The board of works this morning examined the police station and headquarters with a view of making plans for changing the station to the room now occupied by the court and transferring the court room to the basement. Mayor Berghoff insists that the change be made immediately. The project has been under consideration for a long time but no active steps toward making the change have heretofore been taken. The basement is damp, frequently filled with foul air, and it is believed its sanitary condition is responsible for the frequent attacks of sickness experienced by the officers whose duties keep them there almost all the time they are on duty. As police court is never in session but a very short time the same evil effects will not follow, and the change of the department to the upstairs room will be a great advantage and beneficial to health as well.

The Sunday closing order yesterday was generally obeyed. There will probably be one case filed against a saloonkeeper who has persisted in evading the screen order in spite of several warnings. The case will be filed today.

OXYGEN PARTY FOR CHICAGO

Baron Albert A Schlippenbach Russian consul at Chicago, has returned from New York with a new idea, an airy suggestion, not "hot air," but just oxygen. The baron and his oxygen will be at home to north side friends some night in the future in his apartments in the Chalevoix.

The guests at the baron's oxygen party will include only those who know what Mrs. Potter Palmer's ballroom looks like. This means that those who will meet a the tanks are exclusively "our best people," ready to "go against" the parlor fresh air game.

Of course the baron is not the only one who ever thought of doing lively things with oxygen. Jules Verne had the idea in "Dr. Ox," but the baron says: "Chicago doesn't need to be aroused. That's not the object I just want a good time for my friends."

As Baron Schlippenbach is one of the most successful hosts in Chicago his parties are sure to be imitated It is even rumored the habit may drift out to the country clubs this season, and one man who pays Onwentsia club dues is already writing 2,000 words on "Oxygen versus Highball; or, How to Win at Golf."

"Too much pure air might be a shock to some of us," said Dr. Francis Dickinson. "In our early school-days we all say the mouse who couldn't stand the oxygen pace, but he was lively for awhile, and I suppose there was compensation in that However, if people are seeking intoxication they'd better take champagne. The same sort of result would be bound to ensue."

Guests at an oxygen party simply loll in comfortable chairs and inhale oxygen through long tubes from a tank like so many Turks smoking. Then they enjoy the sensation of feeling their blood tingle to their finger tips. The lassitude of the reaction is not so pleasant.—New York World.

The fast ones will go at Centlivre Park Decoration Day.

It simply seems impossible for Fort Wayne to win two games consecutively. "Doggie's" men lost to Grand Rapids yesterday by a score of 6 to 4 in spite of the fact that Grand Rapids had six errors while Fort Wayne had only three and the great sluggers from the north had only three more hits than Fort Wayne. Lattimer made a bad throw on Saturday, not wild, but just bad enough to let a fellow steal. When the club went through here on the way from Columbus north it was given out that Lattimer "is all in" and Fuller was taken along to work. He worked yesterday and lost the game, two wild throws letting in two men each. As Fuller does the same thing in nearly every game he plays it would appear as though Manager Miller should get on to his size before the season is over. McCann did not distinguish himself in yesterday's game and Thornton played clumsily, as usual, making only half the runs and only as many hits as Nattress, Bevans, "Doggie" Miller, McCann, Babb and F. Miller combined, one of them a two-bagger. It is becoming more evident every day that Thornton won't do. Following is the score:

THE GAME SATURDAY.

Fort Wayne broke its losing streak at Grand Rapids on Saturday by winning the first of the series of four by a score of 5 to 3. Mullen pitched and while the Furnituremakers managed to get eight hits off his delivery he kept them so well scattered that they did no material damage in the way of bunching runs. It was gratifying to Mullen's friends to have him win for although he has been ordinarily successful in keeping down hits, he has been singularly unlucky in his support, resulting in almost invariable loss of the games. Fort Wayne made twelve hits and of these McCann and Thornton made over half, McCann getting four and Thornton three. Fort Wayne made three runs in the first inning, a bad error by Rothfuss at first being responsible for the catastrophe. Following is the score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Fort Wayne	3 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 0	5	12

RAIN AT DELPHOS.

Rain prevented the Shamrock-Delphos game yesterday afternoon. The teams will probably meet for two games on the Fourth of July.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Fox has been doing some great hitting since getting into the game at Grand Rapids.

Matthewson, of the New Yorks, is called the "uncrowned king of the box." He has pitched eight straight victories so far this season.

Grand Rapids papers do not take kindly to McLaughlin's umpiring. They should have seen some of his dirty work here if they wanted real cause for a kick. McLaughlin is a peach.

The Shamrocks will leave for Battle Creek, Mich., at 2:20 Thursday morning, where the Fort Wayne boys will play two games. Franco and Robbins will do the slab work and O'Meara will do the back stopping. The Shamrocks will present a strong line-up.

"Lefty" Houtz has been released by Manager Miller. Houtz is a good ball player when he is all right, but he frequently is not all right. When he gets that way he has some very queer ideas about base running and usually runs himself in the hole. When he hits it is either a home run or nothing.

The Grand Rapids Democrat says that from an unprejudiced standpoint there were three things that beat the Furnituremakers on Saturday: Mullen, who was as cool as an iceberg at critical points, and the batting of Thornton and McCann. In a general way the Democrat thinks pretty well of Fort Wayne. Following are some of its comments:

"Nattress is chain lightning personified.—The bleachers like to guy big Jack Thornton.—Take McCann and Thornton's batting out and there would be nothing to it.—Take McCann and Thornton out of the Railroaders and they would not be in the local's class.—'Tacks' Lattimer has a very lame arm and that same lameness is what forced him out of the American league.—The two Millers seem to be a very strong combination. The one on second played a beautiful game and covered lots of ground."

THE BABB CASE.

President Young has submitted the following report on the Babb case, referring to Minneapolis' claim on the third baseman:

"Each club under the National agreement is entitled to equal consideration, and I venture to assert that the Minneapolis club would consider it manifestly unfair if I should suspend one of their players upon the dictation of the Toledo club without first having presented a prima facie right to the services of the player. The evidence of the claim of the Minneapolis club to the services of Charles Babb was sent to this office on April 9, and the Fort Wayne club was promptly notified to present the evidence of their right to the services of this player. This was received, and a copy sent to the Minneapolis club through yourself for rebuttal on April 22. On April 26, 1901, the Minneapolis club wired me, 'We protest against Third Baseman Babb playing with Fort Wayne until our claim is decided.' The Fort Wayne club had established a prima facie right to the services of the player, and at that time the case was up to the Minneapolis club, where they could hang it up indefinitely. On that account I considered it would be an injustice to the player and the Fort Wayne club to suspend him as requested. No reply has yet been received from the Minneapolis club to the claim of the Fort Wayne club."

The Fort Wayne High school team defeated the Huntington High school team at League ark Saturday afternoon by a score of 12 to 5. Erickson was on the slab for Fort Wayne and his work is worthy of special mention. The auburn-haired young man will make a great pitcher some day. He has speed and control and a few years' experience would fit him for fast company. The boys put up an excellent game and had their opponents beaten after the first inning. The batteries were: Fort Wayne, Erickson and McCormick; Huntington, Shidler and Emily.

The Pilsoners defeated Bennett's team on Sunday by a score of 21 to 6. Batteries, Voigt and Alt; Griffin and Kust.

ROYAL PARTY AT SYDNEY.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 27.—The British steamer Onhir having on board the duke and duchess of Cornwall and York, arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning. She was joined outside the harbor by a squadron of seven government vessels conveying the premier, Sir William Lyne, the ministers and federal officials. As the squadron entered the roads-stead, the Onhir leading, the Russian cruiser Gromoboy, from the Acholbigan anchorage, fired a royal salute. The British cruisers responded, hoisting the Russian flag. The harbor was crowded with shipping and excursion craft and the shores were lined with thousands of spectators. The sun shone intermittently. When the Ophir came to anchor she was boarded by the governor general, the Earl of Hopetoun, Governor General of the Commonwealth Sir Frederick Darley, lieutenant governor of New South Wales, and the Russian admiral. The duke and duchess landed at 2 o'clock and were greeted by enthusiastic crowds. The decorations were magnificent and a brilliant military escort awaited the landing of the duke and duchess.

A JEALOUS LOVER'S DEED.

Elkins, W. Va., May 27.—Information was received here today of the murder of Miss Sarah Parker by Samuel Reed at Gladys Fork, on the coal and iron extension of the West Virginia Central railroad, twenty miles from here. Reed became jealous because William Dooley was paying Miss Parker attention. He notified the woman that he would kill her if she did not spurn Dooley's suit. Reed and the woman had been lovers, but she did not heed his threat and continued receiving Dooley's attentions. While she was walking with Dooley, Reed, it is alleged, sneaked up behind and fired a shotgun loaded with slugs at them. The woman was instantly killed, a slug penetrating her heart. Dooley was slightly wounded in the leg. Reed escaped.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, May 27.—Prospects of bullish statistics caused firmness at the opening of the wheat market today. There was a fair trade despite the absence of English cables. July opened unchanged to a shade lower at 72¾@73c and rose to 73½c. Dry weather in the northwest and southwest stimulated buying. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 419 cars against 316 the week before and 767 a year ago. Local receipts were 52 cars, 1 one of contract grade.

A decrease of 2,434,000 bushels in visible supply caused a further advance to 73⅝c. The market reacted to 73⅜c, where it closed, ⅛c higher.

Corn was quiet but firm. July opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 43½c to 43⅝c and rallied to 43¾@43⅞c. Local receipts were 970 cars, 373 of contract grade.

Corn rose with wheat. July touched 44c, reacted in profit-taking, and closed firm ⅛c higher at 43⅜c.

Oats were firm on a fair outside demand. July opened unchanged at 28⅜c touched 28½@28⅝c and rose to 28½@28⅝c. Local receipts were 322 cars.

Provisions were easy on larger receipts and lower prices at the yards. July pork opened 5c lower at $14.62. July lard a shade lower at $7.92½@7.95 and July ribs 2½c lower at $8.10.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 27.—There was scarcely enough trading in the opening dealings to make an appreciable impression on prices.

The holiday on the foreign stock markets was an element in the dullness. Continental Tobacco rose 2½ and American Tobacco 2½. Otherwise changes were insignificant.

Stocks generally were strengthened by the buoyancy of the Tobacco issues. American Tobacco rose 4½ and Continental Tobacco 4½, but Atchison was the only prominent railroad stock that advanced as much as a point.

The Leather stocks and Wisconsin Central gained as much. Heavy selling of Sugar then forced it down 2⅞ and prices fell sharply all around on light transactions.

Tobacco gave way 2½ and Atchison, Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Rock Island, Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Manhattan, Metropolitan Street Railway, Amalgamated Copper and Continental Tobacco declined 1 and 1½.

The tone at 11 o'clock was decidedly heavy and trading was very dull.

Covering by the short interest checked the reaction, and as offerings diminished the room traders bid up prices gradually, causing rallies of from 1 to 2 points in many of the stocks which had been depressed earlier. Standard Rope was active and improved 1½. The bonds were steady.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit rose 1⅛. By noon the market was at a standstill, but recoveries were maintained.

Bonds were quiet and irregular.

He gave up railroading a few months ago and has been enjoying a vacation in the west. Reaching Fort Wayne last evening he was so pleased with the city that he determined upon locating here and the purchase was made today accordingly. Mr. Truesdale will remove his family to Fort Wayne at once.

WAYS OF MAKING A LIVING.

Many men make their living by buying up the cast off wrapping paper and pasteboard boxes from the janitors of large stores and sorting and selling the paper and boxes to east side dealers. Many others buy the newspapers that accumulate in office buildings and sell them for wrapping paper and even turn them into money at the paper mills, though the price paid is low.

A business peculiar to the east side is that of buying and selling pawn tickets. The men in this line seldom redeem the pledges and realize on their sale. They buy the tickets at 5 to 10 per cent. of the amount named on the ticket and sell them at 10 to 25 per cent. of the amount loaned. Only articles of considerable value are inspected before the sale or purchase of the ticket, for the pawnbrokers charge 25 cents for any such inspection. If the face value of the ticket is small, the speculator relies on the judgment of the pawnbroker.

A profitable business is done in old metals. If a dwelling is torn down, the speculator receives from the contractor the right to all the old metal in the debris, sometimes for a mere nominal sum, as in most cases the contractor is glad to have it carried away. The debris is carried away and sorted, and the copper and lead are disposed of at a handsome profit.

A number of men are engaged in a door to door canvass, buying small articles of silverware. The poorest people, in the most wretched parts of the city, usually have something in silver, a spoon, a charm or a thimble it may be, and in case of distress, if eviction for non-payment of rent is impending or ready money is needed for immediate medicine or for drink, the silver buyer makes a profitable purchase.

There is also the man who peddles cinders to people too poor to afford coal. He obtains his supply from the places where the elevated road dumps its ashes, picking out the half burned coals and peddling them in a push cart.

An old Italian who for nearly fifty years has been peddling matches in restaurants and barrooms, especially in the Tenderloin, is reputed to have grown rich and is said to own several houses. Other types are fast dying out, such as the man who used to peddle sawdust to saloonkeepers, but an Irishman who has supplied many offices and shops with feather dusters for the past thirty-four years is still at his trade. These dusters are made in Vesey street. Such turkey feathers as cannot do duty as ostrich feathers are bought in Canal street and resold to the duster makers in Vesey street.—New York Post.

BREAD AND CHEESE.

A couple advanced in years got married lately. The husband had a room in the house securely locked, the inside of which the wife had never seen, and, being curious as to its contents, she begged again and again to see the room. At last he consented, and, lo and behold, the room was full of whole cheese! He explained matters by telling her that for every sweetheart he had in his young days he bought a cheese. His wife began to cry. "Don't cry, dear," he continued. "I've had no sweetheart since I met you." "It's not that," she replied, still sobbing. "I only wish I had been as thoughtful as you and bought a loaf of bread for every man that kissed me. We could have had bread and cheese enough to last us all our days."—London Tit-Bits.

Slow Healing Sores

With rich, pure, strong blood one is never troubled with sores or ulcers. A cut or any injury to the flesh heals in a few days, nature supplying the healing balm in the form of healthy, new blood; but when the circulation is tainted with poisonous germs, humors or any effete matter, a slight scratch or abrasion of the skin becomes a festering sore, tiny pimples grow to be boils, swollen joints and inflamed glands often break out into offensive, slow healing sores. A polluted blood is always a menace to health; not only does it keep the skin in a chronic state of inflammation, but every organ and fibre of the body suffers from an impure and sluggish circulation. You never feel well, you are not and never can be well until the system is relieved of its terrible load of impurities. With the blood so contaminated, so deeply poisoned, ulcers, boils and sores of every kind are apt to become chronic and often develop into Cancer.

Sores and ulcers are most often caused by poverty of the blood and a weak and slow circulation, brought on by long continued sickness, malarial poisoning, torpid liver, the use of mercury, or whatever is calculated to destroy the vitality of the blood and break down the constitution. These old chronic sores last sometimes for years, eating into the flesh, muscles, tissues, and even down into the bones, and are such a tax upon the system that it is hard for the patient to recuperate, and a simple malady often proves fatal.

I became afflicted with a severe sore leg and from the knee to the foot was one solid sore, which was very offensive. I spent over $1,000 on two trips to Hot Springs, and local physicians treated me to no purpose. I had about decided to have my leg amputated, when a friend induced me to try S. S. S. I began to take your medicine, and in the short space of seven months it has completely and thoroughly cured me. My leg is a witness today as to what S. S. S. will do when taken regularly. The sore has healed entirely and my health has improved wonderfully. I have already gained 20 pounds.

S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no mercury, potash, arsenic or other hurtful drug. It cleanses the blood and purifies the circulation, thus ridding the system of the impurities that keep the sores feverish and painful. LOCAL FREIGHT BUSINESS

HEAVIEST TRAFFIC FOR MAY IN PAST TWENTY YEARS.

The local Pennsylvania officials have been informed that President and Mrs. McKinley and party will reach Chicago tomorrow afternoon and that their train will be turned over to the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road at 5:00 o'clock. If this program is carried out it will bring the party into Fort Wayne about 9:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. President McKinley may, however, decide to stop over night in Chicago in order to give Mrs. McKinley a rest, but it is believed that he will not give such an order. The Pittsburg has already sent an engine and train crew to Chicago to meet and bring the train east. The following Associated Press dispatches indicate that the presidential train is making schedule time and it may be expected here at the hour named in foregoing:

Medicine Bow, Wyo., May 27.—The presidential special made schedule time through Utah and Wyoming last night. Mrs. McKinley rested well and Dr. Rixey reported that she passed a comfortable night. The president, as usual, was the first member of the official party to rise. At Rawlings, a little mining town, where the train stopped for water before 7 o'clock, he shook hands with a number of people.

Laramie, Wyo., May 27.—The presidential special reached Laramie at 10:10 a. m. It is due at Omaha at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning.

WILL INCREASE SHOP FORCE.

The Wabash shops, which are now giving employment to about three hundred men, when running full-handed, will be employing over 400 men before the end of the present year. This increase in shop force will be necessary to meet the increased demands that will be made upon the shops when the Butler line is completed and the fifty or sixty new engines now almost due from the locomotive works are in service. Mr. Barnes, General superintendent of motive power of the Wabash, who is in the city, says the company has already ordered some additional machinery for the Fort Wayne shops and that it will arrive and be placed in operation the coming summer. Mr. Barnes will go to the Richmond locomotive works the later part of the present week to see how work upon the new engines is progressing. Twelve of the new engines will be for passenger service and six of them will be of the Atlantic high-speed type, with seventy-nine inch drivers. All of the road engines will have 6,000-gallon capacity water tanks.

NO CHANGE IN THE SITUATION.

There is no change in the strike situation on the Wabash, so far as outward indications go. What the striking machinists have concluded to do with Mr. Ramsey's proposal in a compromise way is known only to the men themselves. They maintain the same reticence that has characterized their actions during the entire strike and nothing can be learned from anyone in a position to talk. From an outside source it was learned that the proposition of Mr. Ramsey was not presented to the men at their hall, but was posted upon the various bulletin boards in the shops, as such notices usually are posted. However, the men are informed upon the question and may take some definite action today or tomorrow, if they have not already acted. The news from Springfield is to the effect that the situation is unchanged.

STRIKER DELEGATES COMING.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the announcement was made from an employe's source that delegates representing the Wabash machinists at Moberly and Springfield are en route here, and that a meeting will be held at the hall, 138 Calhoun street, this evening. It is said that the men will either reject or accept Mr. Ramsey's proposition at that meeting.

YESTERDAY'S EXCURSIONS.

The weather interfered with the excursion business yesterday and all parties were considerably smaller than they would have been under more favorable weather conditions The Lake Erie and Western, which had reason to expect at least 200 excursionists out of this city to Indianapolis, only had seventy-five; the Grand Rapids and Indiana took 150 to Rome City and Kendallville and twenty-three to Richmond, and the Findlay brought in forty people from the towns along the line of that railway. The largest excursion party of the day was that of the Wabash to Lafayette, which included 191 Fort Wayne people, many of them members of the Woodmen of the World, who went there to attend a state meeting of the order. That excursion train took on passengers at all points east of and including Peru and went into Logansport with its seven coaches well filled. The Lake Erie and Western will run another cheap Indianapolis excursion on Sunday, June 9, when a large crowd is expected.

REPORTED FOR DUTY.

M. C. Tierney and J. N. Stephens resumed work in the Pittsburg machine shop this morning. Both were off on account of injured feet, Mr. Tierney about two weeks and Mr. Stephens about four weeks. John Reidel, A. Tassler and A. J. Schirmeyer, of the car department, also reported for work this morning. They had been sick. Lumber Yard Foreman John Gnau, who had been off duty on account of the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frech, also resumed work this morning. Blacksmith John Rupp, who had a boil on his arm, also reported for work.

FREIGHT BUSINESS HEAVY.

A Wabash freight man who has been employed here eighteen years said this morning that during his term of service he never saw local freight business heavier than it is at present. As a result the company has the largest force of freight handlers here in its history and if present conditions continue the force will have to receive more additions. This morning one man was added, Charles J. Owens, and others may be taken on before the end of the week.

FREE RIDE FOR A NAME.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad company wants to give some one a round-trip ticket from their home, anywhere between Petoskey and Richmond, Ind., to Petoskey or Harbor Springs and return, in exchange for a name for their new summer flyer, which will begin its daily northward runs June 30. The officials desire a name appropriate to the train, expressing, if possible, its speed and comforts for the summer resort traveler.

The train is now a regular one, leaving Richmond at 5:40 a. m. It will make regular time until it reaches Grand Rapids, when it will assume the gait of the famous Northland express and make but three or four stops between Grand Rapids and Petoskey. It will reach the latter place at 7 p. m. and Harbor Springs at 7:45, stopping at Bay View and Wequetonsing en route.

RUMOR PROBABLY CORRECT.

No official announcement of the transfer of L. F. Loree, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania, to the Baltimore and Ohio has been received here, yet the rumor that such transfer is to occur June 1 is generally believed. Just how the change will affect the lines west of Pittsburg is a matter of considerable doubt. Everybody expects some changes, but none profess ability to correctly outline them. As the first of June draws near the rumors become more interesting and are the subject of much comment. Mr. Loree is in Chicago today.

INSTALL TRAVELING CRANE.

Workmen are engaged today in installing a large traveling crane in the new addition to the electric works. This crane came from the Siemens-Halske works in Chicago and is a massive affair, capable of lifting and carrying the heaviest pieces of machinery to be turned out of the works.

ACCIDENTS SATURDAY.

There were a half-dozen or more accidents among the Pittsburg shopmen last Saturday, none, however, of a serious character. In addition to those reported by The Sentinel Saturday evening are the following: W. E. Young, boilermaker, left hand burned; A. Jordan, car builder, face and eye injured by a board flying up; James Didler, face and hands burned by slacking lime flying upon him, and Henry Dirig, back sprained by lifting.

INSPECTING SIGNALS.

A special train bearing W. McC Grafton and assistants left Richmond this morning for a trip over the Grand Rapids and Indiana road and arrived here this afternoon. Mr. Grafton is the chief signal engineer of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg and the present trip is his official inspection of the signal department of the Grand Rapids road, which is a Pennsylvania line. He is accompanied on the trip by E. A. Barnes, resident engineer of the Grand Rapids and Indiana.

Commencing on June 1st, the Chicago and Rock Island, in conjunction with the Wabash, will inaugurate its Colorado flyer, establishing a through Pullman sleeper line from St. Louis to Denver by way of Kansas City and Topeka.

The local lodge of the Order of Railway Conductors had a largely attended and interesting meeting yesterday. R. B. Reilly, the lodge's representative to the biennial convention of the order, made his report of that meeting in a most comprehensive and complete manner.

For the second time Jimmy Willson has beaten all competitors in the United States naval academy athletic sports contests, at Annapolis Last Saturday Jimmy won the three leading prizes, the 100 yards dash, the 440 yards running race and the running broad jump. The young man is a son of M. S. Willson, of the electric works.

Stewart Patterson, of the Pennsylvania, have been elected directors of the Trigg Shipbuilding company, of Richmond, Va., which increased its capital to $3,000,000 on Tuesday. The human body, it has been found, is shorter at night than in the morning, due to the weight of the body compressing the intervertebral cartilages. During sleep, or while in a recumbebnt position, the pressure being removed, their natural elasticity enables them to resume their natural size, consequently the height of an individual will vary from three-eights to half an inch between morning and night.

GOVERNMENT WINS

Supreme Court Decides Insular Cases----Vital Ruling in the Downes Case.

FORAKER ACT CONSTITUTIONAL

Washington, May 27.—The United States supreme court today handed down opinions covering all of the issues on the new insular possessions which have been in controversy.

Although several of the decisions upheld the contestants on certain issues raised, yet in the most important decision, that of Downes against Bidwell, Justice Brown announced the sweeping decision of the court upholding the general attitude and policy of the government up to the present time.

The effect of this decision is to affirm the constitutionality of the Foraker act and to give congress power to deal with a newly acquired territory in such manner as the legislative branch may consider suitable for the new territory.

The decision also has the effect of declaring that the new insular possessions do not by virtue of the treaty of cession acquire all the privileges and rights of the constitution.

Justice McKenna delivered the dissenting opinion of the court in the insular cases. He was joined in that opinion by Justices Shiras and White. Justice Gray also dissented from the majority opinion in the Delima case.

THE RIGHT TO GOVERN.

Justice Brown said that whether the sugars imported from or into Porto Rico was dutiable depends upon whether Porto Rico is a foreign country. He held that the right to acquire territory involved the right to govern and control it by congress, but he said that a country could not be both foreign and domestic. The opinion was opposed to the contention of the government. He concluded that at the time the duties were collected Porto Rico was not a foreign country, but a territory of the United States.

THE CONCLUSION.

Justice Brown concluded as follows:

"If an act of congress be necessary to convert a foreign country into domestic territory, the question at once suggests itself, what is the character of the legislation demanded for this purpose? Will an act appropriating money for its purchase be sufficient? Apparently not. Will at act appropriating the duties collected upon imports to and from such country for the benefit of its government be sufficient? Apparently not.

"Will acts making appropriations for its postal service, for the establishment of lighthouses, for the maintenance of quarantine stations, for erecting public buildings, have that effect? Will an act establishing a complete local government, but with the reservation of a right to collect duties upon commerce be adequate for that purpose? None of these, nor all together, will be sufficient, if the contention of the government be sound, since acts embracing all these provisions have been passed in connection with Porto Rico, and it is insisted that it is still a foreign country within the meaning of the tariff laws.

"We are unable to acquiesce in this assumption that a territory may be at the same time both foreign and domestic.

"We are, therefore, of the opinion that at the time these duties were levied Porto Rico was not a foreign country within the meaning of the tariff laws, but a territory of the United States; that the duties were illegally exacted and that the plaintiffs are entitled to recover them back.

JUDGMENT IS REVERSED.

"The judgment of the circuit court of the southern district of New York is, therefore, reversed and the case remanded to that court for further proceedings in consonance with this opinion."

In the course of his reasoning on the manner of the acquisition of Porto Rico Justice Brown held that congress has authority to control such territory.

"Indeed it is," he said, "scarcely to much to say that there has not been a session of congress since the territory of Louisiana was purchased that they had not enacted legislation based upon the assumed authority to govern and control the territory."

FROM NECESSITIES.

"It is an authority which arises not necessarily from the territorial clause of the constitution but from the necessities of the case and from the inability of the states to act upon the subject. Under this power congress may deal with territory acquired by treaty; may administer its government as it does that of the District of Columbia; it may organize a local territorial government; it may admit it as a state upon equality with other states; it may sell its public ownings to individual citizens or may donate them as homesteads to actual settlers.

SUBJECT TO CONGRESS.

"In short, when once acquired by treaty it belongs to the United States and is subject to the disposition of congress.

"Territory thus acquired can remain a foreign country under the tariff laws only upon one of two theories: Either that the word 'foreign' applies to such countries as were foreign at the time the statute was enacted, notwithstanding any subsequent change in their condition or that they remain foreign under the tariff laws until congress has formally embraced them within the customs union of the states.

"The first theory is obviously untenable. While a statute is presumed to speak from the time of its enactment, it embraces all such persons or things as subsequently fall within its scope, and ceases to apply to such as thereafter fall without its scope.

"The theory that a country remains foreign with respect to the tariff laws until congress has acted by embracing it within the customs union, presupposes that a country may be domestic for one purpose and foreign for another. It may undoubtedly become necessary for the adequate administration of domestic territory to pass a special act providing the proper machinery and officers as the president would have no authority except under the war power, to administer it himself; but no act is necessary to make it domestic territory if once it has been ceded to the United States.

"We express no opinion as to whether congress is bound to appropriate the money to pay for it. This theory also presupposes that territory may be held indefinitely by the United States; that it may be treated in every particular except for tariff purposes, as domestic territory; that laws may be enacted and enforced by officers of the United States sent there for that purpose.

M'KENNA'S DISSENT.

Washington, May 27.—Justice McKenna went into a detailed examination of the cases cited in the majority opinion. He maintained that they did not show a clear current of decision but disclosed much divergence of view. He referred also to the fact that precedents not in consonance with the majority view were now dismissed as dictum and not binding opinion.

He spoke of the dangers attending the dismissal of judicial opinion as "dictum" and of the greater danger when such a course may interfere, or had interfered with the action of a nation.

Constancy and certainty of judicial opinion was of the highest importance, the justice declared, and they should not be like the "exhalations of a marsh, shining mistily." Justice McKenna's examination of the many precedents was exhaustive and almost an hour was given to showing to what extent the circumstances of each case bore on the present condition in Porto Rico.

THE GOETZE CASE.

In the cases of Goetze vs. the United States and Crossman vs. the United States, brought here from the circuit court for the southern district of New York to test in the Goetze case the validity of the levy of duty on an importation of tobacco from Porto Rico into the United States after the ratification of the treaty and before the passage of the Porto Rican act, and in the Crossman case duty on liquor imported into Hawaii after annexation, but before the taking effect of the act providing a government for Hawaii, the court reversed the judgments below, for the reasons cited in the DeLima case, holding the levy of duties was unconstitutional.

THE DOOLEY CASE.

Justice Brown also announced the opinion of the court in Dooley vs. the United States, involving the validity of a duty levied on goods imported into Porto Rico from the United States between the date of military occupation and the taking effect of the Porto Rico tariff act. The court held that there could be no doubt of the validity of the duties levied by virtue of General Miles' order prior to the ratification of the treaty of peace. It placed this right on the ground of military necessity.

With reference to duties levied after ratification of the peace treaty, the court said a different rule applied and it held these duties invalid.

Justices Gray, Shiras, McKenna and White dissented, the latter delivering the opinion.

JUSTICE WHITE'S VIEW.

Justice White, in dissenting in the

Himself and Family Bound While the Villians Ransacked the House for Money.

Navarre, Ohio, May 27.—Christian Stahl, a farmer living near this place, was brutally murdered last night by two masked burglars, who broke into the house and demanded his money.

Upon being refused, the burglars bound Stahl and the other members of the family with ropes. After beating Stahl until he was unconscious the men left. Stahl's sister managed to free herself and gave the alarm.

Stahl died soon after being freed from his bonds. There is no clew to the murderers.

Miss Wagner, residing at 219 East Jefferson street, suffered a painful accident this morning. While engaged in cleaning windows she accidently thrust her right hand through a pane of glass and received an extensive gash across the wrist which severed an artery. Dr. C. B. PASS WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 27.—At today's session of the United Presbyterian general assembly the question of woman suffrage came up in the report of the judiciary committee, which was to the effect that the question is purely civic and therefore not one that properly can come before an ecclesiastical legislative body. The report was approved.

The assembly also adopted the recommendation of the committee calling for the reinstatement of Rev. J. H. Kyle, of Delawnre, on the basis of repentance.

Steps were ordered taken for the establishment of colleges at Asyut, Egypt, and Gordon, India.

An appropriation of $5,000 was made for the establishment of a mission at Dolaib Halb, Soudan, and $10,000 for ministerial relief, the maximum annuity being fixed at $250.

BOTH MOTORMEN KILLED IN THE CRASH.

Albany, N. Y., May 27.—Further information from the vicinity of the collision on the Albany and Hudson railway near East Greenbush Sunday afternoon shows that the number of injured is over fifty. There have been no other deaths, however, up to this hour, than the five previously reported.

The passengers on the cars, which run on the Albany and Hudson railway, were pleasure seekers bound for various resorts and many of them were of rich and fashionable families.

George C. Barry, of Troy, hurt internally.

Fred J. Smith, of Albany, injured internally.

Among those more seriously injured are:

William F. Barry, of Troy, cuts on head.

Mary Barry, of Troy, leg broken.

George P. Bittner, of Moorville, cut and bruised.

Isaac Blauvelt, of Albany, leg broken.

De Witt C. Peliz, of Albany, badly bruised.

H. J. Rogers, of Albany, leg broken.

Fred Herzog, of Albany, shoulder dislocated.

MOURNFUL SCENE IN POSTOFFIC

The lobby of the postoffice at Greenbush after the disaster was filled with dead and wounded, with hysterical women and children looking for relatives and friends, and with surgeons administering temporary relief, while ambulances were hurrying through the town, taking the wounded to hospitals and the dead to the morgue.

The point on the single track where the collision occurred was at a sharp curve. So sudden was the collision that the motorman did not have time to put on the brakes before southbound car No. 22 had gone almost clean through north-bound car No. 17, and hung on the edge of a high bluff with its load of shrieking, maimed humanity. One motorman was pinioned up against the smashed front of the platform with both legs severed. He was killed instantly, while the other motorman lived but a few minutes.

Fully 120 men, women and children formed a struggling, screaming pyramid, mixed with blood, detached portions of human bodies and the wreckage of the cars.

The cars weigh fifteen tons each and are the largest built, but so frightful was the crash that both were torn almost to splinters.

STORY OF AN EYE-WITNESS.

Among the passengers on the south-bound car was Deputy Superintendent Howard J. Rogers, of the state department of public instruction. He was accompanied by Mrs. Rogers and their young son and daughter, all of whom were slightly injured, with the exception of the daughter. Speaking of the accident, Mr. Rogers said:

"My recollection of what happened as the cars came together is rather vague. We were proceeding southward at a very rapid rate of speed. Fortunately my wife, my children and myself were seated in the rear. The accident occurred after we had passed a switch, beyond which was a curve, where the track skirts what appeared to be an embankment. We did not seem to lessen in speed as we neared this curve. There was absolutely no warning so far as my memory can recall before the crash came. As we dashed around the curve the cars met with terrific force. With the velocity of a cannon ball ours fairly plowed the entire length of the other car before it lost its impetus. The crash was succeeded by one of the most awful scenes I have ever witnessed, by shrieks and groans of wounded men, women and children that lay scattered about the tracks or buried amid the debris.

"Mrs. Rogers, our two children and myself were hurled toward the front over the seats and thrown into the aisle beneath a mass of debris in which were buried dozens of other passengers. I have no recollection of how we managed to free ourselves from the wreckage. All of us but the boy, however, were able to help ourselves. He sustained a broken leg and had to be dug out of the mass of wreckage.

"Where the responsibility for the accident rests I cannot say. It was said that our motorman ought to have waited on the switch for the down car, but that for some reason he concluded to take chances of reaching the next switch. How much truth there is in this story I cannot state."

WILL ASK FOR EWING STREET

THE SOUTHWESTERN COMPANY WANTS CHANGE IN ROUTE.

To Avoid Sharp Double Curve and Extra Trackage—Would Give Up Fulton Street.

Attorney N. D. Doughman, representing the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company, stated to The Sentinel this afternoon that his company would soon go before the city council and ask for a change in the route granted through the city.

The interurban line would like to leave Fairfield avenue at Baker street, go easterard on Baker to Ewing and north on Ewing to Pearl, and the council will be petitioned to grant this change. If it is done the interurban company will surrender Fulton street. As its franchise now exists the Huntington line will come down Fairfield avenue to Brackenridge street, where it makes a sharp curve to the west for a short distance along a narrow street, then turning again sharply upon Fulton street to proceed northward to Pearl. The projectors point out that these two curves are not at all desirable, and there is the additional fact that it swings the line one square out of its way to the westward, necessitating the construction of two squares of extra track.

The application for the change in right-of-way will clash somewhat with the desires of the Fort Wayne Traction company, which has already expressed a desire to use Ewing street, from Jefferson to Baker, and thence on Baker to Fairfield avenue.

NORTHERN PACIFIC FIGHT.

New York, May 27.—Interest in the question as to whether or not the control of the Northern Pacific railroad changed hands at the time of the recent corner in the stock was revived today by the circulation of a report that the Union Pacific syndicate bought some time ago all of the Northern Pacific holdings of Edward D. Adams. In addition it was said that Mr. Adams, who is a member of the company's board of directors and executive committee, went short of the stock from 5,000 to 7,000 shares and was one of those forced to settle at a high price after the pushing through of the corner. Mr. Adams was regarded as the representative of the Deutsch bank of Berlin in the Northern Pacific deal, but a recent dispatch from Berlin denied that the bank's holdings had been sold. Neither of the contestants in Northern Pacific has been willing to make any statement recently concerning the control of the property, and it is thought no official announcement will be made before the annual meeting in the fall for the election of directors.

WILL REVISE CREED

Presbyterian General Assembly Unanimously Adopts the Revision Report.

REJOICING FOLLOWS VOTING.

Philadelphia, May 27.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church today adopted amid great enthusiasm and without a dissenting voice the majority report of the revision committee. It was a striking finale to the four days' of earnest discussion in which the giants of the church had taken part.

The adoption of the report followed amendment of section B in accordance with the resolution introduced by Rev. Dr. J. D. Moffatt, president of Washington and Jefferson university, in which the word "summary" was displaced by the word "statement." Other sections were amended so as to be acceptable and the report as amended was submitted as a whole to a vote. A swelling chorus of "ayes" announced that the assembly had committed itself to a change in the creedal statement of the Presbyterian church.

A season of rejoicing over the disposition of the tremendous issue then followed and the singing of the doxology was followed by prayer.

New York city was selected as the place of holding the general assembly of 1902.

THE DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

When the Presbyterian general assembly met today there appeared to be a disposition on the part of the commissioners to bring the debate on creed revision to an end as soon as possible.

The majority of the delegates are impatient to settle the question so far as this assembly is concerned. There is still considerable other business of importance to be transacted and some of the subjects are expected to arouse much discussion.

Among these are the establishment of an ecclesiastical supreme court, the oversight and direction of the collecting and distributing of benevolent offerings, the plan of vacancy and supply for unemployed ministers and churches without pastors and a plan of oversight of the young people's societies.

TO MEET IN NEW YORK IN 1902.

Before proceeding to the further consideration of the question of revision, the assembly adopted the report of the committee on the next place of meeting, and selected the Fifth avenue Presbyterian church, New York, as the meeting place of the general assembly of 1902.

An amendment was offered substituting Los Angeles for New York, but Roberts, stated clerk, announced that the condition of the assembly's funds would not warrant such selection and the amendment was lost.

Invitations were also received from Denver, Milwaukee and Saratoga Springs.

The committee recommended to the next assembly the selection of Los Angeles for the assembly of 1903.

WARNS AGAINST HASTE.

When the order of the day—the revision of the confession of faith—was reached, the moderator made a few remarks advising against any hasty action today. He said there was a tendency to rush the matter so that the assembly could adjourn, and he hoped the commissioners would not get into a panicky condition and do something which they might regret.

He suggested, however, that all speeches be limited and a motion to limit them to ten minutes was unanimously carried.

James D. Moffatt, D. D., president of Washington and Jefferson university, who on Saturday gave notice that he would offer an amendment to the majority report, was then recognized by the moderator.

DR. MOFFATT EXPLAINS.

Dr. Moffatt explained that he was moved to offer the amendment to recommendation B because of the small majority which on Saturday voted to retain the recommendation in the revision committee's report. Objection had not been made, he said, to the original recommendation because of ambiguity in certain portions and his object in amending was to render the vote of the assembly unanimous on whatever action might be taken.

"I hoped to amend recommendation B," continued Dr. Moffatt, "to meet all objections and to give it new wording. Many good men who opposed the original form were alarmed by the word 'summary.'

"I have made a simple change, striking out the word 'summary' and substituting 'statement,' which expresses just what we have in view.

"Again, there is nothing in the original report as to what shall be done with the summary. I wish to remove all ambiguity and have it stated plainly that the committee to be appointed will be required to report to the next assembly and that a recommendation be made to the next assembly to submit the entire subject to the Presbyteries."

THE AMENDMENT.

Dr. Moffatt's amendment is as follows:

"We recommend that this committee be instructed to prepare and to submit to the next general assembly for such disposition as may be judged to be wise, a brief statement of the reformed faith, expressed, as far as possible, in untechnical terms. The said statement is to be prepared with a view to its being employed to give information and a better understanding of our doctrinal beliefs, and not with a view to its becoming a substitute for an alternative of our confession of faith."

Dr. Nicolls, of St. Louis, a leader of the minority party, in a brief speech, heartily seconded the amendment, which action drew forth considerable applause.

Other seconding speeches were made by Dr. Herrick Johnson, of Chicago; Former Moderator Charles A. Dickey, of Philadelphia; Dr. William McKibben, Cincinnati; Dr. George B. Baker, Philadelphia; Dr. William C. Roberts, Transylvania, Ky.; Dr. W. H. W. Boyle, Pueblo, Col.; Dr. D. J. Saunders, president of the Bible university, Charlotte, N. C.; Dr. David A. Cunningham, Washington, Pa., and Dr. David S. Kennedy, Allegheny, Pa.

As each of the above commissioners, who represented all shades of opinion in the assembly, rose to speak for the amendment, a wave of applause swept over the vast assemblage.

ADOPTED UNANIMOUSLY.

The amendment was adopted by a viva voice vote, not one voice being raised in opposition to it.

The question was then on the adoption of the majority report, and Dr. Johnson moved that the three recommendations contained in the report be taken up and the motion was carried.

Recommendation A, which calls for the appointment of a revision committee, was adopted, with only a few votes against it.

Recommendation B, as amended, went through without a sign of opposition.

Recommendation C, on motion of Dr. Baker, of Philadelphia, was amended so that the amendments to be prepared by the committee for several chapters of the confession of faith shall be made "either by modification of the text or by declaratory statement, but so far as possible by declaratory statement."

This recommendation was also adopted with but little opposition.

WHOLE REPORT ADOPTED.

The question then recurred to the adoption of the report as a whole. The moderator put the question, and then there was one great roar of "aye."

Instantly the assembly rose en masse and sang the doxology.

The moderator then led in prayer. The end to the great discussion, which had continued into the fourth day, came so quickly that it took everybody by surprise. Dr. Moffatt, who introduced the harmonizing amendment to recommendation B, was surrounded by a crowd which congratulated him on his skill in bringing the matter to such a satisfactory issue.

After the assembly had again settled down Dr. Baker offered a resolution that the present revision committee be continued, that the committee be increased to twenty-one, that

AMENDED RECOMMENDATIONS.

The recommendations as amended and finally adopted by the general assembly are as follows:

A. We recommend that a committee as provided for by the form of government, chapter XXIII, section 3, be appointed by this assembly.

B. We recommend that this committee be instructed to prepare and to submit to the next general assembly for such disposition as may be judged to be wise, a brief statement of the reformed faith, expressed, as far as possible, in untechnical terms. The said statement is to be prepared with a view to its being employed to give information and a better understanding of our doctrinal beliefs, and not with a view to its becoming a substitute for an alternative of our confession of faith."

C. We further recommend that this committee be instructed to prepare amendments of chapter III, chapter XI, section 3; chapter XVI, section 7; chapter XXII, section 3, and chapter XXV, section 6, of our confession of faith, either by modification of the text or by declaratory statement, but so far as possible by declaratory statement so as more clearly to express the mind of the church, with additional statements, concerning the love of God for all men, mission, and the holy spirit. It being understood that the revision shall in no way impair the integrity of the system of doctrine set forth in our confession and taught in the holy scriptures.

The assembly proceeded to the consideration of the report of the special committee on judicial commissions.

COURT OF LAST RESORT.

This report recommends the establishment of a court of last resort to be styled the "permanent judicial commission of the general assembly," for the hearing and final determination of judicial cases.

Rev. Dr. Charles F. Hubbard, of Buffalo, moved to recommit the report to the special committee, which should be increased to ten members, with instructions to make further report at the next assembly.

Rev. Dr. G. W. F. Birch, of New York, a member of the special committee, opposed recommittal on the ground that some definite action is necessary at this time because of the delay in hearing cases, and advocated the adoption of the report in the interest of peace and justice.

The principal paragraph of the report was amended slightly by the insertion of the words "Which the general assembly shall not elect to try before its whole body," and is as follows:

"The court of last resort for the hearing and determination of judicial cases, which the general assembly shall not elect to try before its whole body, shall be styled 'the permanent judicial commission of the general assembly' and shall be composed of eight ministers and seven ruling elders, who shall be elected by the general assembly. At the first election fifteen persons shall be elected annually to serve for one year, five for two years, and five for three years, and thereafter five persons shall be elected annually to serve for three years.

"Any vacancy may be filled by the general assembly at any meeting thereof by the election of a person to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term."

The report was adopted. The report of the special committee on missionary and benevolent offerings was under discussion when the hour for recess arrived.

WINDSOR DWELLING ROOMS.

It is a popular error to suppose that the dwelling rooms at Windsor are very sumptuous, says the London Chronicle. The private apartments are scarcely worthy of an ordinary country gentleman's seat. Queen Elizabeth is responsible for a great number of them, and they were built rather hurriedly by her orders. She had taken refuge at Windsor from the plague which was raging in London, and her maids of honor and attendants revolted at the uncomfortable condition of their rooms, which were low, dark and cold. The queen herself was furious because her dinner was invariably served up stone cold, but being of an inquiring mind she discovered that the kitchen was nearly half a mile from the dining room, and straightway built the present kitchen, which is very large and commodious. Elizabeth built the Octagon Library, which she is still said to haunt, and where she was frequently seen, it is said, last year.

SOUTHERN MOUNTAINEERS.

It is odd to think that the southern mountaineer was not discovered until the outbreak of the civil war, although he was nearly a century old then, and it is really startling to realize that when one speaks of the southern mountaineers he speaks of nearly 3,000,000 people who live in eight southern states—Virginia and Alabama and the southern states between—and occupy a region equal in area to the combined area of Ohio and Pennsylvania, as big, say, as the German empire, and richer, perhaps, in timber and mineral deposits than any other region of similar extent in the world. This region was and is an unknown land. It has been aptly called Appalachian America and the work of discovery is yet going on.

The American mountaineer was discovered, I say, at the beginning of the war, when the confederate leaders were counting on the presumption that Mason and Dixon's line was the dividing line between the north and south and formed, therefore, the plan of marching an army from Wheeling to some point on the lakes, and thus dissevering the north at one blow. The plan seemed so feasible that it is said to have materially aided the sale of confederate bonds in England, but when Captain Garnett, a West Point graduate, started to carry it out he got no farther than Harper's Ferry. When he struck the mountains he struck enemies who shot at his men from ambush, cut down bridges before him, carried the news of his march to the federals, and Garnett himself fell with a bullet from a mountaineer's squirrel rifle at Harper's Ferry.—Scribner's Magazine.

PRESIDENT MAHON IS HERE

HEAD OF STREET CAR MEN'S UNION IN THE CITY.

Will Address an Open Meeting in Trades and Labor Hall Tonight —Other Labor Notes.

President W. D. Mahon, of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, is in Fort Wayne and this evening will address an open meeting in Trades and Labor hall, Elektron building. This meeting will be of special interest to street car men and there will undoubtedly be a large attendance. President Mahon is an interesting speaker and his address tonight will be in the interest of organized labor.

The organizing committee of the Trades and Labor council is making an effort to effect an organization among the garment workers of the city, with excellent prospects of success. Other branches of labor to which this committee is devoting its attention are the shovelers and elevator operators, and prospects for forming a strong union of these workmen are very bright.

A NEW ROMANCE WRITER.

George Horton, who is likely to make a hit with his romance, "Like Another Helen," is a young American who was born in Wayne county, New York, in 1859. At an early age he was taken to Michigan by his father, who bought a farm in the new state that was then regarded as in the far west. Young Horton was educated in the district school and Marshall high school. Then he was sent to Ann Arbor, where he graduated at the high school, and afterward at the University of Michigan, in the classical course. Mr. Horton was given a separate diploma for especial excellence in Greek and Latin. After graduating he taught school for a while, and then entered upon newspaper work in Chicago. In 1893 he was sent to Athens as consul by President Cleveland. He remained in Greece five years and a half, during which time he made a careful study of the language and people. Since his return he has devoted himself to literary work and contributing to various periodicals. His publications are "Songs of the Lowly," poems (1892, published by subscription); "In Unknown Seas," poems, 1895; "Aphroessa," poems, 1897; "Constantine," originally written in modern Greek by the author and run as a serial in the Athens Acty, and "A Fair Brigand."

EDISON'S PLATINUM.

A story will serve to throw new light upon Edison's character. At one time there was great fear in the scientific world that the deposits of platinum were about to become extinct. Edison thereupon organized a correspondence bureau, and sent letters to every American consul upon the globe, to British consuls in ports where the United States had no representative, and to scientific men in every land. The letter gave a clear statement respecting the metal, how and where it was found and might be found, how it could be identified and treated, and much other information. In each letter were inclosed samples of platinum as found in the various bed rocks. This may seem to be a small undertaking, but when it is remembered that the letters were sent off by the thousands, that the postage was ten cents to each letter, and that the pieces of platinum inclosed were almost as valuable as metallic gold, the cost of the achievement is readily seen. While he did not succeed in greatly increasing the output of platinum, he set at rest all fear of its extinction and thus earned the gratitude of every scientific investigator.

Prussia gave 1,228 medals last year to 614 couples who celebrated diamond and golden wedding anniversaries.

Dooley case, made the announcement that in the Downs case, which questions the validity of duties levied on oranges imported from Porto Rico after the Foraker act, the majority of the court would, as Mr. White stated it, reverse itself and hold the duty valid.

He said the opinion in the Downs case, which the court would announce later, would thus lead to the inconsistency of the court deciding that after the Foraker act Porto Rico ceased to be a part of the United States and before the Foraker act it was a part of the United States.

Justice White said the court would later, in the Downs case, hold that congress had the power under the Porto Rican tariff act to impose a tariff duty on goods coming from Porto Rico. He expressed himself as unable to conceive on what theory they thus proceeded and expressed the opinion that it was due to confusion of thought in the DeLima case.

It was settled law, by the decisions in the Woodruff case and the Houston case, he said, that the power of congress to levy an impost duty did not extend to any territory that was a part of the United States, and the result of the majority opinion in the Downs case thus would be to bring about a state of things where territory which was a part of the United States before the Foraker act became a foreign territory after the Foraker act.

The dissenting justices throughout their dissents took occasion to criticise sharply the apparent conflict between the majority ruling in the DeLima case and that which would follow later in the Downs case.

OTHER CASES.

After Justice White concluded his opinion Justice Brown announced the decision of the court in the case of Armstrong vs. the United States, covering the shipment of goods to Porto Rico. This case, the court said, was similar to the Dooley case. While duties prior to the treaty were proper, those subsequent to the treaty were not.

The judgment of the circuit court was reversed.

Justice White announced the dissent of Justices Gray, Shiras, McKenna and himself.

Justice Brown then announced the opinion in the case of Downes vs. Bidwell, relating to a shipment of oranges from Porto Rico to New York after the enactment of the Foraker act. The objections to the lower court's jurisdiction were overruled.

In the Downes case the supreme court decides that while Porto Rico is a territory of the United States it is not such for tariff purposes and that the Foraker act is constitutional. The judgment of the circuit court was affirmed. A dissenting opinion was handed down by Justice White in which Justices Shiras and McKenna concurred.

Justice Brown then proceeded to show the differences of the question in this case from that involved in the first case decided, this difference being based on time and the course taken by the executive and legislative branches of the government.

He said there was considerable divergence in the opinion of the court in the past and too much weight should not be given to particular phases of past decisions, such as that referring to the supreme authority of congress, as that might refer to the supreme authority of congress under the constitution. After analyzing the case of Longborough vs. Blake, the justice summed up the conditions under which territories were not in the same position as states.

THE DELIMA CASE.

The Delima case involved the importation of goods into the United States from Porto Rico after the ratification of the treaty of Paris and before the passage of the Porto Rican act.

Delima & Co., doing business in New York, imported from San Juan, Porto Rico, during the months of June and July, 1899, certain sugars, the product of Porto Rico.

Upon these sugars the collector at New York demanded and collected about $13,000 as customs duties.

Delima & Co. sued Bidewell, the collector, as an individual, in the supreme court of the state of New York, to recover back the duties thus paid, amount in all to $13,145, alleging that they were unlawfully demanded, in violation of the constitution and collected by duress, the collector exacting the payment of the duties as a condition to the delivery of the sugars. On the petition of the collector the suit was removed to the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York, which sustained a demurrer to the complaint both on the ground that no cause for action was stated and that the court had no jurisdiction. From the judgment dismissing the complaint Delima & Co. prosecute error from the court.

Vinol is a preparation that is delicious to take.

It consists of a delicate table wine in which has been dissolved the active curative principles that are found in the liver of the live cod, and to which cod-liver oil owes its reputation as a remedy for coughs, colds and all wasting diseases.

If there is any one who has a cough, a tendency to take cold easily, or a dread of consumption, we would like to have them call and permit us to explain what we know about Vinol and why we believe it will cure all such troubles more surely and quickly than any other remedy ever given to the public.

Following is a letter which has just come to hand and which shows how beneficially Vinol acted in one instance:

"I had a severe cough of long standing. I was advised by friends to give your Vinol a trial, which I did. Before taking it I had tried many other remedies for coughs without obtaining any relief. With Vinol it was different. I have now used four bottles of it, and am pleased to say my cough has almost entirely left me. I have been decidedly benefited by its use in every way. Very truly yours."—H. E. SMALL, Boston, Mass.

Vinol acts beneficially upon the digestive organs, enabling them to obtain for themselves the elements from which are made firm healthy flesh tissue, sound muscle, strong bone structure and pure blood.

We recommend Vinol unreservedly. If you will call on us at our store, we will tell you why we have such faith in this new wine of cod-liver oil.

We guarantee that if you suffer from any symptoms that indicate troubles for which we know Vinol is intended, we will refund to you your money if you don't find Vinol helps you.

EARLY CLOSING.

The early closing movement has struck Fort Wayne in earnest, the latest to fall in line being the music dealers, who will close their places of business at 6 o'clock, commencing July 1st. It has been the custom to remain open until 9 and 10 o'clock and even later every night, and the new order of things will be greatly appreciated by the employes. There is also some talk among dry goods merchants to close at noon on Saturdays during the summer months to give the clerks a half holiday. This is the custom in nearly every large city and it has been found entirely satisfactory in every case.

The lecture is a reply to the agnostic teachings of the late Colonel Ingersoll, and has been warmly received by audiences in every part of the country. The bride is well known in Fort Wayne musical circles, being a singer of much ability, and the groom is the well known traveling representative of the Cudahy Packing company. They will leave immediately for Marion, Ind., to reside, that city being Mr. Mills' headquarters.

NEWSPAPER SUPPRESSED.

St. Petersburg, May 27.—The prohibition of the publication of the Novoe Vremya for a week because of its editorial article on the labor troubles is creating an immense sensation as indicating extraordinary nervousness on the part of the government. The Novoe Vremya is second only to the Moscow Viedomosti in conservatism and is usually allowed greater latitude than are the other papers. The editorial in question is mild as compared with many governmental publications on the labor situation in more quiet times. It merely said the operatives were poorly paid for excessively hard work and were beginning to be influenced by western literature, and suggested that the government carry on the work begun for emancipation and enforce social reforms.

TROOPS QUIT CHINA TODAY.

Washington, May 27.—A dispatch received at the war department from General Chaffee, at Taku, says that the transports Summer and Lennox sail May 27 (today) and that all of the troops that are to leave China are off for Manila.

There are eight cities in India with over 50,000 inhabitants, a record beaten by no country of the same area.

Absolute zero is the point at which, as has been determined from experiments with gases, matter would be without a trace of heat—could be cooler no farther. This point is 273 however, absolutely unobtainable. degrees below centigrade zero. A degree of cold so intense as this is, however, absolutely unattainable. Even the meteorites which swarm in interstellar space must be heated to some extent by the radiance of the stars.

Students of the strenuous can get some fresh light by watching the South Carolina senatorial campaign after Benjamin R. Tillman gets his coat off and begins to saw wood.

Another "interested party" has come forward with the announcement of startling disclosures in the Neely case. It may be, but it looks now, as it has for some time, as though he would have to pry the case open with a crowbar to get anything out of it.

Ninety-seven young girls in Trenton, N. J., have signed the following pledge: "I hereby promise not to keep company with or to marry any man who is not a total abstainer from the use of intoxicating liquors, including wine, beer and cider, and I promise to abstain from the same myself. I won't marry a man to save him."

The promoters of the proposed Indiana coal combine deny that the consolidation is to be anything of the nature of a trust. It does not make much difference what such combination is called. When a "community of interest" of any sort has been established it is usually found that something expansive has gotten beneath the price to the consumer.

Doubtless the death of the two trolley-car motormen who caused the horrible wreck near Albany, N. Y., Sunday, has saved them from prosecution for manslaughter. That two men of ordinary sense would race their cars at tremendous speed into a blind curve is almost inconceivable. Yet that was the cause of the accident, the loss of five lives and the maiming of half a hundred other passengers. There was a race between two cars moving in opposite directions for a switch and the safety of the passengers appears to have been a consideration entirely dropped by the motormen in their anxiety to reach the point desired. Neither was fit for the immense responsibility of his position. The trustworthy locomotive engineer or motorman has never absent from his mind the lives in his charge.

It cuts little figure whether it be the king or his coachman who either gets on the wrong side of the stock market. Report now is that Emperor William of Germany has lost nearly all of his private fortune in unfortunate speculations entrusted to Commercial Councillor Sandem, who appears to have duped the kaiser into dumping his millions into a ten-per-cent-a-week scheme conducted much like some of the "skin games" that from time to time have been uncovered in New York. A well-plated gold-brick will always sell.

Both United States senators from South Carolina have, as a result of a fierce political fight, resigned. Their resignations take effect next September, and meanwhile they will canvass the state, each seeking a vindication at the hands of the people. This contest promises to supply every bitter and strenuous feature that has been missing from modern American politics. Tillman is what he probably himself would term an intense commoner. He sprang from the soil. By sheer force of rugged ability and indomitable character he has raised himself to a political pre-eminence in his state. He is radical, courageous and under provocation bitter, while his talents, though somewhat in the rough, are of high order. McLaurin is in some respects Tillman's opposite. He is a modern exemplar of ante bellum aristocracy of the south. He is a man of only moderate ability, exclusiveness and polish. He boasts a distinguished ancestry and as fighter is inferior to Tillman and different. Senator McLaurin has lately attracted much attention throughout the country and aroused much bitter feeling in his own state by repudiation of the present leaders and principles of the democratic party. In short, he has in sympathy, if not otherwise, allied himself to the republican party. This has provoked the bitter hostility of Tillman and a personal fight of malignant tendencies has been on. Tillman challenged McLaurin to join him in resigning from the senate. McLaurin accepted the challenge and the fight has been taken before the people for settlement. It will be a desperate political duel and will be watched with absorbed interest from all parts of the country.

WILL PROBE PAPER TRUST.

Toronto, May 27.—The Canadian Press association has been advised by Hon. Mr. Fielding, minister of finances, that the government will conduct the investigation and summon all necessary witnesses in the inquiry into the alleged papermakers' combination. The association had intended prosecuting. Mr. Fielding's communication clears up all doubts as to the government's position in the matter and meets all the claims of the press association. Eminent counsel will be employed in the inquiry, which will open this afternoon before Judge Techarcau in Montreal.

SAMPSON MAY RETIRE.

New York, May 27.—According to a Washington dispatch to the World, it is reported in naval circles at the capital that Rear Admiral Sampson may ask for voluntary retirement on account of his health, and that the navy department will grant his request. He will not regularly be retired under the statutory clause until late next winter. No official application has been received at Washington from him, and he may make none until after Secretary Long's return.

A FIGHT OF FAITH

ELOQUENT MEMORIAL SERMON BY REV. J. W. BAILEY.

RECALLED VETERANS' VALOR

MAGNIFICENT TRIBUTE TO THE AMERICAN SOLDIER.

LEAVES A GLORIOUS LEGACY

PASTOR POINTS OUT THE NEEDS OF TODAY.

To an immense congregation, combining alike the war-scarred and gray-haired veterans of 1861-65, with their wives and daughters, younger veterans of the later conflict with Spain, Sons of Veterans, the various ladies' auxiliary organizations and patriotic citizens unattached to any of these organizations, Rev. J. Webster Bailey, at Plymouth church Sunday morning, delivered the annual memorial sermon. It was a masterful effort, thrilling with a patriotism that found a responsive sentiment in the hearts of its hearers.

Rev. Bailey's text was "Fight the Good Fight of Faith," found in I Timothy, 6:12, and after citing the fact that the United States was a country on which the sun never sets, he said in part:

"This is a country over which the stars and stripes, emblem of liberty, are floating this morning, with none to molest or make us afraid. Foreigners have sometimes accused Americans of being over-proud of their country. But when the youth of today remembers all that has been paid in the past to purchase the safety and peace which he enjoys, he immediately forgives himself for a pride which may appear to some boastful.

"No forefathers have had their deeds recounted like our forefathers. Look with a jealous eye on any attempt to omit one line from that history. Let our children forget the past at Thermopylae, if need be, but never the narrow bridge so valiantly defended at Lexington. To know that Caesar crossed the Rubicon, and why he crossed it, is of less importance to our American youth than to know that Washington crossed the Delaware, and why he crossed it.

FATHERS AND BROTHERS.

"But I remember that on this memorial Sabbath we are not commemorating the deeds of forefathers, but the deeds of our fathers and brothers. Into the very faces of many of them we now look while we speak of them. On the graves of others who marched with these, we may place our floral tributes and leave them to their peaceful rest. Others who fell in battle have no slab to mark this restful place. Whence they fell and where they sleep are known only to God. But 'the fittest place for man to die is where he dies for man.' To love peace and to pursue it is our trade. To know how to defend our country's honor is our secret reserve, subject to the country's call.

"War was not our trade. And only to maintain a divinely principle could the men of America be persuaded to turn aside to fight. When that principle was maintained, though at the cost of a million precious lives, the remnant returned again to their peaceful avocations. All sectional differences north and south are passing away. The narrowing breach was well nigh closed when those who once were the gray marched side by side on Cuba's soil, or bivouacked in the camps, restlessly awaiting orders to sail.

MIGHTIEST FACTORS.

"The mightiest factors in our nation's history and progress have ever been great and living principles. Armies disband, but these remain. Men die, but these live on. Swords are turned to pruning hooks, but principles abide the same as yesterday, today and forever.

"When behind every bullet is a motive true, behind every cannon ball a vital truth, then and then only can war be right. Munitions of war are but the means, and men themselves the agents for emphasizing the fact that right must prevail at all hazzards.

"No sentiments take so high a place in human lives as the sentiments of patriotism and religion. The soldiers' graves speak to us more eloquently than human lips and bid us preserve what they fought to create. So, we have met during the quiet hours of this holy Sabbath day to connect and forever unite the two great sentiments of human life known as patriotism and religion. These sentiments represent the deepest convictions and noblest aspirations of the human heart. We have met in the dawn of the twentieth century to recall the deeds of the fathers in the century that has just slipped away from us. The new meaning given to the stars and stripes in 1865 has been made clear in the closing days of the old century. San Juan hill and Santiago and Manila revealed to the world that we are a single nation and forever united to foster civil and religious liberty. We have learned anew the bravery and gallantry of our soldiers in victorious battle. We have learned of the merciful spirit with which our soldiers temper the horrors of war.

"The great test of our government came not in the struggle with Spain, but in the civil war, and the cost of it all is told in the story of Bull Run, and the Shenandoah and the Wilderness and Murfreesboro, and Cold Harbor, and Lookout Mountain and Chickamauga, and in the silent monuments in the national cemeteries. But the results are told in a country reunited, invincible, a nation gloriously loving truth and gloriously battling for it when needs be.

"God is not so much opposed to inequality as He is to injustice and iniquity. The lesson of history is that God hates iniquity. May the great God who has led us on guide us in the future until we stand alone in history as the nation now greatest in liberty, greatest also in truth and greatest in Christian love.

"THEY DID THEIR DUTY."

Rev. J. N. Field, of the First Baptist church, aroused the audience to the highest pitch in his tribute to the veterans. In part the speaker said:

"The flag which is displayed upon this stage this afternoon was purchased at a tremendous cost of men and money, yet it is well worth the price. To the men who laid their lives on their country's altar, to the living no less than to the dead, to the private no less than to the officer, I am profoundly grateful. I feel like taking off my hat when in the presence of an old soldier. Today we are reminded again of the times when men were called upon to discharge a most perilous duty. When within forty-eight hours after the president's call, more men were on the way than were needed, and above the tramp, tramp, tramp of thousands of feet was heard the inspiring chorus, 'We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand strong.' It was not 'Home, Sweet Home' that was the air, but 'My Country 'Tis of Thee' was the tune that inspired the men to deeds of valor. What parting scenes, what bitter strifes, what breaking up of families! Men died to make men free. When we think of the principles for which the civil war was waged, we cannot forget them, nor would we if we could. Not so long as the battle-scarred face or an empty sleeve is seen on the streets; not so long as the sons and daughters of veterans live and the union stands, shall the men of blue be forgotten. Why? Simply because they did their duty.

"The best thing that can possibly be said of a man is that he did his duty to his family, to his country and to his God. Moses chose the cross instead of the crown. He was the Abraham Lincoln of his time. The best thing that can be said of him is that he did his duty. As I look into the faces of these men this afternoon, and as I think of your services and that of the great number of men who died by your sides, I think, here is a body of men who dared to do their duty.

"Peace has always come after conflicts. You men faced emergencies because you felt that it was your duty. This means something. It is not hard to do your duty when there is no spirit of danger. To step out on the battlefield means a display of every particle of manhood. That doing of his duty in the crisis of his country's life made the name of Grant memorable. The men who were raised up and inspired to do their duty in those days are the kind of men we need today. We can find the same willingness among men to do their duty now as then—the sons of veterans, and those who are not sons of veterans—and every true American citizen has the same stuff in him which you men manifested. Long live the memory of the Grand Army of the Republic. 'Twas the blood of courage that flowed in the veins of the veterans of the civil war. May that same royal, loyal, blood continue to flow in the sons, who will continue to observe Memorial day when the veterans and their sons shall have passed away."

AUBURN PIONEER DIES.

Auburn, Ind., May 27.—Jacob Lochner, a DeKalb county pioneer, died here Saturday night after an illness of a week. Mr. Lochner came to this county when it was largely covered by forests and has resided here continuously since. His sister, Mrs. Margaret Schaffer, of Fort Wayne, and children, Mrs. J. E. Beaty, Mrs. Charles Bartels and Peter and John C. Lochner, were at his bedside when the end came. The interment took place at Leo today.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. may6eod&w

The boiling point of hydrogen, according to a new determination made recently by Prof. Dewar, is 252.5 degrees below zero on the centigrade scale, or 20 degrees above absolute zero. Investigations as to the temperature of solid hydrogen are now being carried out and show a still closer approach to absolute zero.

ASKS FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

JOHN NIEMAN SUES THE FORT WAYNE GAS COMPANY.

Alleges Severe Injuries as Result of Carelessness of Employes—Court News.

John Nieman this morning filed a suit against the Fort Wayne Gas company, claiming damages in the sum of $10,000 for injuries received while in their employ, on June 25, 1900. The complaint was penned by W. G. and H. Colerick and alleges:

That while Contractor Peter was building the intersepting sewer at a point on Superior street, by excavating the earth under a gas main, the support being taken away the pipe broke, allowing gas in large quantities to escape. The defendant immediately sent a force of workmen to repair the damage, said force being under the forsmanship of Samuel Gordon. Gordon selected a plank, which he instructed the plaintiff to place across the tramway used by Peter for transferring dirt taken from the sewer to a point down the street. This tramway was across the sewer trench, which at that point was about twenty feet deep. Plaintiff was ordered to stand on the said plank and assist in depressing the point of the pipe for the purpose of mending it. While he was so standing the tram car came along in plain view of Foreman Gordon and striking the plank upon which the plaintiff was standing, knocked it from under him, and he fell into the trench and against the pipe, sustaining great injuries. The plaintiff alleges that he was standing with his back to the approaching car and that the foreman was standing away at a safe distance and could easily have warned him of the impending danger but neglected to do so. In the fall plaintiff sustained a fracture to his hip, injury to his spine, and many other painful bruises and injuries. He was taken to a hospital and his medical treatment and medicines cost him over $750. He was at the time an able-bodied man, capable of earning $3 a day and is now and always will be a helpless cripple, unable to earn anything.

He therefore asks judgment in the sum of $10,000 and all other proper relief.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

Ida C. Gimble has made application for a divorce.

Eleanor Prange has been declared of unsound mind by a commission of which Justice Bullerman was the chairman.

Judge Aiken will adjourn court tomorrow evening for a few days and will go to Albion to sit on the Noble county bench for Judge Adair for several days.

In the case of Steinfelt vs. Nirdlinger the plaintiff being dead a motion for abatement was made by the defendants.

The case of Bandt vs. Gerke is on trial in the superior court.

A law which was passed by the last legislature and which, it is believed, will affect the salaries paid the janitors at the court house, has been discovered. The law plainly states that all persons engaged by the county commissioners on any public work shall receive not less than 20 cents per hour. The matter has been submitted to County Attorney Barrett for an opinion. The helpers and janitors are now receiving about 15 cents per hour, and if the new law applies to them it will make a difference of many hundreds of dollars in the county payroll.

On Saturday Judge O'Rourke sent Charles Buesner, arrested for larceny, to the reformatory south for from one to seven years. Sheriff Stout will leave with the prisoner tonight.

Mary C. Drenary has commenced divorce proceedings against Samuel Drenary. The parties live in Jefferson township and the complaint alleges that they were married in October, 1899. The husband is charged with failure to provide and is accused of abusing the plaintiff and occasionally knocking her down and kicking her.

Charles W. Porter has filed his bond as notary public.

The county commissioners are today allowing gravel road bills under the old law. This is the last settlement under the old statute and hereafter the settlements and allowances will be with and to the road superintendents instead of the supervisors.

The county council on Saturday disposed of all the business before it, as outlined in The Sentinel. In a few instances the amounts asked for were cut down, the clerk being allowed but one typewriter, instead of two as asked for. The other claims were allowed nearly as requested.

The total amount of land in the Philippine Islands is approximately 73,345,415 acres. Of this amount it is estimated that about 4,940,000 acres are owned by individuals, leaving in public lands 68,405,415. The religious orders own about 400,000 acres.

Rheumatic Warped Limbs.

To suffer the most excruciating pains, to lose the use of limbs, and to have the joints swollen and disfigured is the lot of the victim of rheumatism.

Uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism. If the kidneys are active, they remove the uric acid. That is their special work. If, on the other hand, the kidneys are deranged, there is sure to be uric acid in the blood and rheumatic pain through the body.

No amount of liniment will ever cure rheumatism. It sometimes relieves, but cure can only be brought about by setting the kidneys right.

The most effective kidney remedy known to man is Dr. A. W. Chase's kidney-Liver Pills. They cure rheumatism permanently by making the kidneys active in their work of removing the uric acid from the blood.

Mr. William J. Coad, No. 65 Bronson Street, Oswego, N. Y., writes: "I am very glad to praise Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and tell what they have done for me. I suffered for many years with severe constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble, and could get no relief until I tried Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In them I found immediate relief, and can honestly recommend them to other sufferers."

PRAISE AND HONOR

FOR VETERAN SOLDIER, LIVING AND DEAD.

TEMPLE MEMORIAL SERVICE

GREAT AUDIENCE PRESENT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

THREE SPEAKERS IN ELOQUENT SYMPOSIUM.

The veteran soldier, living and dead, his bravery, his valor and his unselfish devotion to the cause of his country were the themes which thrilled a great audience at Masonic Temple Sunday afternoon on the occasion of the annual public memorial exercises. Practically every seat in parquet, boxes, circle and gallery of the theater was occupied with an enthusiastic audience that cordially applauded the tributes paid by eloquent speakers to the honored veterans.

The stage, on which were seated the speakers of the day, the musicians and representatives of the various soldiers' organizations, was wreathed in patriotic color, while in the central portion of the parquet was a large delegation of the gray-haired veterans. Lieut. George Zollinger presided. The scripture lesson and invocation were given by Rev. J. W. Bailey, and interspersing the exercises the capable choir of Grace Reformed church sang patriotic songs.

"THE OLD GUARD."

Rev. D. T. Williams, of the South Congregational church, spoke on "The Old Guard," and he paid a masterly tribute to the sturdy veterans who bore unflinchingly the brunt of the great struggle. In part he said:

"It was the boys who were dusty blouses who did the real fighting and were the real saviors of our country. Forty years ago, as you will remember, a peculiar condition of things confronted us. A prosperous nation was divided. A house was arrayed against itself. On one side there was a people devoted to state sovereignty. On the other a people who wanted a united country. On the southern side there was courage and heroism; on the northern side there was equal courage; but the north possessed something the south did not have. In the north there was patriotism and integrity.

"The federal soldiers carried the stars and stripes which have ever been the emblem of liberty, victory and triumph. Under that flag Father Washington drove the British from the land, and under the same flag you who wore the blue fought and won. This day has for many of us sacred memories, and should bring vividly to our memories the sacrifices and sufferings of the old guard. The fact of their suffering should make the institutions of our country all the more dear to us. You and I ought this day to look at the shining deeds of the old guard. The spirit that urged them to victory should burn itself in our breasts that we should always go forth in our country's defense.

"The memories of those days will never pass away. Mothers sent their boys to the front with kisses and tears and said, 'Go, your country needs you.' Thirty-six years ago the conflict ended and the conquerors were merciful to the conquered. Thanks be to God that the predominating spirit of the age is peace. General Grant, the greatest general of all times, was a merciful man, as is evidenced when he returned to General Lee the proffered sword. I say Grant was perhaps the greatest general of all times. One thing I know. He was greater than Alexander, because he was purer. He was greater than Caesar because he was less selfish. He was greater than Napoleon because he was more tender. All honor to the old officers and all the old guard for the part they played.

"But the women should not be forgotten, for they were brave, too. You, boys in blue, should consider one factor that helped you. You remember how some of you were sick. The hearts of the women were touched and they left their comfortable homes in the north to nurse you and followed the camp and made it possible for you to do the things which you did. Many of you would have died but for the kindly ministrations of the women of the north land. Remember, then, the noble mothers and daughter who ministered to you and prayed for you in camps and hospitals; for to them is due some of the credit of your gallant deeds."

MEANING OF MEMORIAL DAY.

Rev. J. A. Patterson, of Simpson M. E. church, had the subject, "What Memorial Day Means," and in part he said:

"The consciousness that war is right, gives a man ten-fold power. The American Eagle that shrieked "freedom" amid the smoke of battle on the field of Appomattox, the red, white and blue that flung its glorious folds to the breeze at El Caney, and pushed its way into the tangled depths of the Philippine Islands, these are but emblems of the eternal truths formulated in the constitution of the United States that every living man is entitled to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. To set their truth high on its pedestal when a world may see it, and to protect it from vandal hands the men and women of this land will count their very lives as nothing. They will give a Lincoln, they will give a Garfield, they will give a Lawton. But the truth—the truth must live.

SURPRISED THE WORLD.

"That which has surprised the other nations of the world, and which has been a notable characteristic of the American people, is the promptness with which forces not visible on the surface, have been marshalled when the hour came when they were needed. In other words, the remarkable resourcefulness of the country. This suggests a kindred feature equally noticeable among the United States troops, and that is, an intelligent appreciation of the situation among the rank and file. There were thousands of private soldiers who were as well-informed as to the true state of affairs, governmental and military, as were the officers who directed their movement.

"I never look into the faces of our honored veterans without a feeling of sadness. For as each Memorial day comes round, the ranks are thinner than the year before, and the day is not far distant when the last veteran shall respond to the roll call up yonder and pass on to join the ranks of the army of God. The purpose which took you from home and loved ones years ago was accomplished. You said 'the union must be preserved at all hazards.' You said, 'The stars and stripes must float over an unbroken brotherhood of states from the lakes to the Everglades, from Plymouth Rock to the Golden Gate.'

A GLORIOUS LEGACY.

"Young men, you have received from the hands of your fathers a glorious legacy. See that you honorably discharge the trusts committed to your hands. Perpetuate the principles of justice and liberty after so great a sacrifice. If you shall never be called upon to take up arms against the enemies of liberty, let me remind you that there are inward battles as fierce as any ever waged, and which call for the highest qualities of manly courage.

"Count your right of franchise as a sacred trust and sell it not, as you value your birth-right. Never was youth so favored as he who lives in this dawning of the new century, under the protecting folds of Old Glory. Hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

"What the American flag says to you and me this morning, it is saying to the people in Cuba and the people in the Philippine Islands. 'Every individual has the right to live an honest life and enjoy enmolested the fruits of his industry.' Make it as difficult as possible for men to do wrong and as easy as possible for them to do right. It used to be said that might made right. Teach men that only the right makes might. Believe in education and enlightenment. Let the flag float from the top of every schoolhouse in the land. He that opens a school, closes a prison. Aid, strive with might and main to emancipate your fellows from the slavery of sin.

NEED OF TODAY.

"What every state needs today is men who will stand unequivocally for truth and righteousness, and will not deny the Christ in the halls of justice. What every city needs is men of Christlike spirit and purpose who do not forget that their citizenship is in heaven. For the Christ-made man makes the best citizen. It remains with you and me to say if anything calculated to destroy this government shall grow to such undetected and unchecked proportions. It shall not be if we are true to the Lord Jesus Christ, and fight the good fight of faith."

ITALY WANTS TAPESTRIES.

A Vienna correspondent writes that representations have recently been made by the Italian embassy as to the feasibility of the restoration to Italy of certain very valuable Gobelins tapestry which it is alleged the Austrian government appropriated from the Ducal palace in Mantua in 1866. The history of these works of art seems to be fairly well established, and the question seems to resolve itself into one of loan or annexation. The tapestry is now at Schoenbrunn, in the imperial castle, and it is not thought likely that the restoration will be effected.

At the suggestion of a Chicago justice of the peace a school is to be opened in that city in which policemen will be taught elementary grammar, so that they can express themselves more clearly on the witness stand.

HAVE ENOUGH TO HOLD WOODS

NEW CASES AGAINST SHORT CHANGE OPERATOR.

The Man's Wife Comes to Fort Wayne With Cash to Put Up for Bail—Police Notes.

Mrs. Wood, wife of Perry Woods, the short change artist who was bound over last week, arrived in the city on Saturday and she is prepared to put up $500 in cash to secure a bondsman for her husband. It is not likely, however, that the swindler will get off so easy as all that. Captain Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police, has filed another affidavit, charging him with swindling a man named Merriman out of $10 on the same day that he swindled Archie Stuart, for which he was arrested. This information has been filed in the circuit court and as soon as Woods gives bond he will be rearrested. And that will not be the end of his troubles either. Yesterday J. S. Gumpper, a contractor living on Home avenue, went over to the county jail and identified Woods as the fellow who flimflammed him out of $20 last Tuesday on a Grand Rapids train going south. Gumpper, like Stuart, obligingly held an envelope full of tissue paper while Woods went into another car to see his sister and get the correct amount of money. He refused to give his name to the conductor, as he did not think that he could get his money back and he did not want to set himself up as a target for his friends. After he read a description of Woods in The Sentinel and a description of his operations he thought he would go over to the jail and see whether he was the same man. He picked him out immediately and this will make case No. 3. Mr. Woods apparently has a very gloomy prospect ahead of him.

MORE TROUBLE FOR WOODS.

A Mr. Hunter of Columbia City, arrived in the city this afternoon and paid a visit to the jail in order to establish, if possible, another case against Woods, the man held on several charges of flim-flamming. About two months ago a man answering the description of Woods succeeded in working the short change graft on Mr. Hunter at the Pennsylvania depot as the latter was about to return to his home. The matter was reported at the time, but nothing was done until today, when Capt. Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police notified Mr. Hunter of Woods' arrest. If Woods is the man who "worked" Mr. Hunter he will file an affidavit against him.

NOTES OF THE POLICE.

There were three cases at police court this morning. May Roberts was looked for by the police on Saturday night but was not found. May was on a glorious drunk and had been making things interesting for the people in the east end. Yesterday she was discovered, still with a fierce "bun" on and she was taken into camp. She was penitent this morning, but the judge was inexorable and sent her over for eleven days.

Fred Stearns had an exciting experience. He was arrested on Saturday near the Nickel Plate depot and was locked up. Yesterday morning the mayor of Columbia City telephoned Mayor Berghoff to release a man named Lahar, who had been jailed on Saturday morning for drunkenness, saying that he would send a check for $11, the amount of his fine, by the morning mail. The mayor thought the fellow was confined in the city prison, and going to the police station told the officers to release the prisoner they had, that he would be responsible for the fine. The officers asked no questions but turned the fellow loose, much to his surprise and joy. Later the mayor discovered that he had released the wrong fellow and gave orders that the fellow in jail should be turned loose and Stearns should be rearrested. So it happened that yesterday afternoon Stearns, who was then perfectly sober, was rearrested and this morning he was fined $1 and costs.

John Bowers was found beastly drunk last evening on Calhoun street and was locked up. This morning Judge Louttit sent him over for eleven days.

Captain Stoll reported at the police station that on Saturday night at 9 o'clock there was three inches of snow on the ground at Plymouth.

The board of works this morning examined the police station and headquarters with a view of making plans for changing the station to the room now occupied by the court and transferring the court room to the basement. Mayor Berghoff insists that the change be made immediately. The project has been under consideration for a long time but no active steps toward making the change have heretofore been taken. The basement is damp, frequently filled with foul air, and it is believed its sanitary condition is responsible for the frequent attacks of sickness experienced by the officers whose duties keep them there almost all the time they are on duty. As police court is never in session but a very short time the same evil effects will not follow, and the change of the department to the upstairs room will be a great advantage and beneficial to health as well.

The Sunday closing order yesterday was generally obeyed. There will probably be one case filed against a saloonkeeper who has persisted in evading the screen order in spite of several warnings. The case will be filed today.

OXYGEN PARTY FOR CHICAGO.

Baron Albert A. Schlippenbach, Russian consul at Chicago, has returned from New York with a new idea, an airy suggestion, not "that air," but just oxygen. The baron and his oxygen will be at home to north side friends some night in the future in his apartments in the Charlevoix.

The guests at the baron's oxygen party will include only those who know what Mrs. Foster Palmer's ballroom looks like. This means that those who will meet at the tanks are exclusively "our best people," ready to "go against" the parlor fresh air game.

Of course the baron is not the only one who ever thought of doing lively things with oxygen. Jules Verne had the idea in "Dr. Ox," but the baron says: "Chicago doesn't need to be aroused. That's not the object. I just want a good time for my friends."

As Baron Schlippenbach is one of the most successful hosts in Chicago his parties are sure to be imitated. It is even rumored the habit may drift out to the country clubs this season, and one man who pays Onwentsia club dues is already writing 2,000 words on "Oxygen versus Highball; or, How to Win at Golf."

"Too much pure air might be a shock to some of us," said Dr. Francis Dickinson. "In our early schooldays we all say the mouse who couldn't stand the oxygen pace, but he was lively for awhile, and I suppose there was compensation in that. However, if people are flocking to intoxication they'd better take champagne. The same sort of result would be found to ensue."

Guests at an oxygen party simply loll in comfortable chairs and inhale oxygen through long tubes from a tank like so many Turks smoking. Then they enjoy the sensation of feeling their blood tingle to their finger tips. The lassitude of the reaction is not so pleasant.—New York World.

The fast ones will no at Centlivre Park Decoration Day.

It simply seems impossible for Fort Wayne to win two games consecutively. "Doggie's" men lost to Grand Rapids yesterday by a score of 6 to 4 in spite of the fact that Grand Rapids had six errors while Fort Wayne had only three and the great slugger from the north had only three more hits than Fort Wayne. Lattimer made a bad throw on Saturday, not wild, but just bad enough to let a fellow steal. When the club went through here on the way from Columbus north it was given out that Lattimer "is all in" and Fuller was taken along to work. He worked yesterday and lost the game, two wild throws letting in two men each. As Fuller does the same thing in nearly every game he plays it would appear as though Manager Miller should get on to his size before the season is over. McCann did not distinguish himself in yesterday's game and Thornton played clumsily as usual, making only half the runs and only as many hits as Nattress, Bevans, "Doggie" Miller, McCann, Babb and F. Miller combined, one of them a two-bagger. It is becoming more evident every day that Thornton won't do. Following is the score:

THE GAME SATURDAY.

Fort Wayne broke its losing streak at Grand Rapids on Saturday by winning the first of the series of four by a score of 6 to 3. Mullen pitched and while the Furnituremakers managed to get eight hits off his delivery he kept them so well scattered that they did no material damage in the way of bunching runs. It was gratifying to Mullen's friends to have him win for although he has been exceedingly successful in keeping down hits, he has been singularly unlucky in his support, resulting in almost invariable loss of the games. Fort Wayne made twelve hits and of these McCann and Thornton made over half, McCann getting four and Thornton three. Fort Wayne made three runs in the first inning, a bad error by Rothfuss at first being responsible for the catastrophe. Following is the score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Fort Wayne	3 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 —	5	12
G. Rapids	1 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 * —	3	8

Two-base hits—Lezotte, McCann, Thornton. Three-base hit—McCann. Sacrifice hit—Mullen. Stolen bases—Rothfuss, Dundon. 2; Fox, McCann, Babb. First base on balls—Off Harber, 4; off Mullen, 4. Struck out—By Herber, 6; by Mullen, 3. Passed ball—Lattimer. Umpire—Mullane. Time—1:[illegible].

RAIN AT DELPHOS.

Rain prevented the Shamrock-Delphos game yesterday afternoon. The teams will probably meet for two games on the Fourth of July.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Fox has been doing some great hitting since getting into the game at Grand Rapids.

Matthewson, of the New Yorks, is called the "unarrowned king of the box." He has pitched eight straight victories so far this season.

Grand Rapids papers do not take kindly to McLaughlin's umpiring. They should have seen some of his dirty work here if they wanted real cause for a kick. McLaughlin is a peach.

The Shamrocks will leave for Battle Creek, Mich., at 2:20 Thursday morning, where the Fort Wayne boys will play two games. France and Robbins will do the slab work and O'Hearn will do the backstopping. The Shamrocks will present a strong line-up.

"Letty" Houtz has been released by Manager Miller. Houtz is a good ball player when he is all right, but he frequently is not all right. When he gets that way he has some very queer ideas about base running and usually runs himself in the hole. When he hits it is either a home run or nothing.

The Grand Rapids Democrat says that from an unprejudiced standpoint there were three things that beat the Furnituremakers on Saturday: Miller, who was as cool as an iceberg at critical points, and the batting of Thornton and McCann. In a general way the Democrat thinks pretty well of Fort Wayne. Following are some of its comments:

"Nattress is chain lightning personified.—The bleachers like to pay big Jack Thornton.—Take McCann and Thornton's batting out and there would be nothing to it.—Take McCann and Thornton out of the Railroaders and they would not be in the local's class.—'Tacks' Lattimer has a very lame arm and that same lameness is what forced him out of the American league.—The two Millers seem to be a very strong combination. The one on second played a beautiful game and covered lots of ground."

THE BABB CASE.

President Young has submitted the following report on the Babb case, referring to Minneapolis' claim on the third baseman:

"Each club under the National agreement is entitled to equal consideration, and I venture to assert that the Minneapolis club would consider it manifestly unfair if I should suspend one of their players upon the dictation of the Toledo club without first having presented a prima facie right to the services of the player. The evidence of the claim of the Minneapolis club to the services of Charles Babb was sent to this office on April 9, and the Fort Wayne club was promptly notified to present the evidence of their right to the services of this player. This was received, and a copy sent to the Minneapolis club through yourself for rebuttal on April 22. On April 26, 1901, the Minneapolis club wired me: 'We protest against Third Baseman Babb playing with Fort Wayne until our claim is decided.' The Fort Wayne club had established a prima facie right to the services of the player, and at that time the case was up to the Minneapolis club, where they could hang it up indefinitely. On that account I considered it would be an injustice to the player and the Fort Wayne club to suspend him as requested. No reply has yet been received from the Minneapolis club to the claim of the Fort Wayne club."

The Fort Wayne High school team defeated the Huntington High school team at League ark Saturday afternoon by a score of 12 to 5. Erickson was on the slab for Fort Wayne and his work is worthy of special mention. The auburn-haired young man will make a great pitcher some day. He has speed and control and a few years' experience would fit him for fast company. The boys put up an excellent game and had their opponents beaten after the first inning. The batteries were: Fort Wayne, Erickson and McCormick; Huntington, Shilder and Emily.

The Pilsners defeated Bennett's team on Sunday by a score of 21 to 6. Batteries, Voigt and Alt; Griffin and Kust.

The Only Sluggers defeated the Superior Street Sluggers by a score of 20 to 12.

ROYAL PARTY AT SYDNEY.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 27.—The British steamer Ophir having on board the duke and duchess of Cornwall and York, arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning. She was joined outside the harbor by a squadron of seven government vessels conveying the premier, Sir William Lyne, the ministers and federal officials. As the squadron entered the roads-stead, the Ophir leading, the Russian cruiser Gromoboy, from the Athelbigh; anchorage, fired a royal salute. The British cruisers responded, hoisting the Russian flag. The harbor was crowded with shipping and excursion craft and the shores were lined with thousands of spectators. The sun shone intermittently. When the Ophir came to anchor she was boarded by the governor general, the Earl of Hopetoun, Governor General of the Commonwealth Sir Frederick Darley, lieutenant governor of New South Wales, and the Russian admiral. A JEALOUS LOVER'S DEED.

Elkins, W. Va., May 27.—Information was received here today of the murder of Miss Farah Parker by Samuel Reed at Gladyville, on the coal and iron extension of the West Virginia Central railroad, twenty miles from here. Reed became jealous because William Dooley was paying Miss Parker attention. He notified the woman that he would kill her if she did not spurn Dooley's suit. Reed and the woman had been lovers, but she did not heed his threat and continued receiving Dooley's attentions. While she was walking with Dooley, Reed, it is alleged, sneaked up behind and fired a shotgun loaded with slugs at them. The woman was instantly killed, a slug penetrating her heart. Dooley was slightly wounded in the leg. Reed escaped.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 27.—Governor McSweenie, of South Carolina, who is attending the dedication services of the South Carolina monument at Chickamauga, stated today that he probably will be a candidate for the United States senate at the coming primary, although he has no definite announcement to make today. THE MARKETS.

Chicago, May 27.—Prospects of bullish statistics caused firmness at the opening of the wheat market today. There was a fair trade despite the absence of English cables. July opened unchanged to a shade lower at 72⅞@73c and rose to 73¾c. Dry weather in the northwest and southwest stimulated buying. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 419 cars against 316 the week before and 707 a year ago. Local receipts were 52 cars, 1 one of contract grade.

A decrease of 2,431,000 bushels in visible supply caused a further advance to 73¾c. The market reacted to 73½c, where it closed, ½c higher.

Corn was quiet but firm. July opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 43¼@43⅜c and rallied to 43¾@43⅝c. Local receipts were 270 cars, 273 of contract grade.

Corn rose with wheat. July touched 44c, reacted in profit-taking, and closed firm ⅛c higher at 43⅝c.

Oats were firm on a fair outside demand. July opened unchanged at 28⅝c touched 28⅛@28⅜c and rose to 28⅛@28⅝c. Local receipts were 328 cars.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 27.—There was scarcely enough trading in the opening dealings to make an appreciable impression on prices.

The holiday on the foreign stock markets was an element in the dullness. Consolidated Tobacco rose 2½ and American Tobacco 2½. Otherwise changes were insignificant.

Stocks generally were strengthened by the buoyancy of the Tobacco issues. American Tobacco rose 4½ and Continental Tobacco 4½, but Atchison was the only prominent railroad stock that advanced as much as a point.

The Leather stocks and Wisconsin Central gained as much. Heavy selling of Sugar then forced it down 2⅝ and prices fell sharply all around on light transactions.

Tobacco gave way 5½ and Atchison, Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Rock Island, Union Pacific, Erie, Missouri Pacific, Manhattan, Metropolitan Street Railway, Amalgamated Copper and Continental Tobacco declines 1 and 1½.

The tone at 11 o'clock was decidedly heavy and trading was very dull.

Covering by the short interest checked the reaction, and as offerings diminished the room traders bid up prices gradually, causing rallies of from 1 to 2 points in many of the stocks which had been depressed earlier. Standard Rope was active and improved 1½. The bonds were steady.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit rose 1⅝. Before the market was at a standstill, but recoveries were maintained.

Bonds were quiet and irregular.

WAYS OF MAKING A LIVING.

Many men make their living by buying up the cast off wrapping paper and pasteboard boxes from the janitors of large stores and sorting and selling the paper and boxes to east side dealers. Many others buy the newspapers that accumulate in office buildings and sell them for wrapping paper and even turn them into money at the paper mills, though the price paid is low.

A business peculiar to the east side is that of buying and selling pawn tickets. The men in this line seldom redeem the pledges and realize on their sale. They buy the tickets at 5 to 10 per cent. of the amount named on the ticket and sell them at 10 to 25 per cent. of the amount loaned. Only articles of considerable value are inspected before the sale or purchase of the ticket, for the pawnbrokers charge 25 cents for any such inspection. If the face value of the ticket is small, the speculator relies on the judgment of the pawnbroker.

A profitable business is done in old metals. If a dwelling is torn down, the speculator receives from the contractor the right to all the old metal in the debris, sometimes for a mere nominal sum, as in most cases the contractor is glad to have it carried away. The debris is carried away and sorted, and the copper and lead are disposed of at a handsome profit.

A number of men are engaged in a door to door canvass, buying small articles of silverware. The poorest people, in the most wretched parts of the city, usually have something in silver, a spoon, a charm or a thimble it may be, and in case of distress, if eviction for non-payment of rent is impending or ready money is needed for immediate medicine or for drink, the silver buyer makes a profitable purchase.

There is also the man who peddles cinders to people too poor to afford coal. He obtains his supply from the places where the elevated road dumps its ashes, picking out the half burned coals and peddling them in a push cart.

An old Italian who for nearly fifty years has been peddling matches in restaurants and barrooms, especially in the Tenderloin, is reputed to have grown rich and is said to own several houses. Other types are fast dying out, such as the man who used to peddle sawdust to saloonkeepers, but an Irishman who has supplied many offices and shops with feather dusters for the past thirty-four years is still at his trade. These dusters are made in Vesey street. Such turkey feathers as cannot do duty as ostrich feathers are bought in Canal street and resold to the duster makers in Vesey street.—New York Post.

BREAD AND CHEESE.

A couple advanced in years got married lately. The husband had a room in the house securely locked, the inside of which the wife had never seen, and, being curious as to its contents, she begged again and again to see the room. At last he consented, and, lo and behold, the room was full of whole cheese! He explained matters by telling her that for every sweetheart he had in his young days he bought a cheese. His wife began to cry. "Don't cry, dear," he continued. "I've had no sweetheart since I met you." "It's not that," she replied, still sobbing. "I only wish I had been as thoughtful as you and bought a loaf of bread for every man that kissed me. We could have had bread and cheese enough to last us all our days."—London Tit-Bits.

Slow Healing Sores

With rich, pure, strong blood one is never troubled with sores or ulcers. A cut or any injury to the flesh heals in a few days, nature supplying the healing balm in the form of healthy, new blood; but when the circulation is tainted with poisonous germs, humors or any effete matter, a slight scratch or abrasion of the skin becomes a festering sore, tiny pimples grow to be boils, swollen joints and inflamed glands often break out into offensive, slow healing sores. A polluted blood is always a menace to health; not only does it keep the skin in a chronic state of inflammation, but every organ and fibre of the body suffers from an impure and sluggish circulation. You never feel well, you are not and never can be well until the system is relieved of its terrible load of impurities. With the blood so contaminated, so deeply poisoned, ulcers, boils and sores of every kind are apt to become chronic and often develop into Cancer.

Sores and ulcers are most often caused by poverty of the blood and a weak and slow circulation, brought on by long continued sickness, malarial poisoning, torpid liver, the use of mercury, or whatever is calculated to destroy the vitality of the blood and break down the constitution. These old chronic sores last sometimes for years, eating into the flesh, muscles, tissues, and even down into the bones, and are such a tax upon the system that it is hard for the patient to recuperate, and a simple malady often proves fatal.

I became afflicted with a severe sore leg and from the knee to the foot was one solid sore, which was very offensive. I spent over $1,000 on two trips to Hot Springs, and local physicians treated me to no purpose. I had about decided to have my leg amputated, when a friend induced me to try S. S. S. I began to take your medicine, and in the short space of seven months it has completely and thoroughly cured me. My leg is a witness today as to what S. S. S. will do when taken regularly. The sore has healed entirely and my health has improved wonderfully. I have already gained 20 pounds.
J. B. TALBERT,

It cleanses the blood and purifies the circulation, thus ridding the system of the impurities that keep the sores feverish and painful. PRESIDENT COMING

MR. AND MRS. M'KINLEY DUE TOMORROW.

GRAND RAPIDS WANTS ITS FLYER CHRISTENED.

LOCAL FREIGHT BUSINESS

HEAVIEST TRAFFIC FOR MAY IN PAST TWENTY YEARS.

The local Pennsylvania officials have been informed that President and Mrs. McKinley and party will reach Chicago tomorrow afternoon and that their train will be turned over to the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road at 5:00 o'clock. If this program is carried out it will bring the party into Fort Wayne about 9:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. President McKinley may, however, decide to stop over night in Chicago in order to give Mrs. McKinley a rest, but it is believed that he will not give such an order. The Pittsburg has already sent an engine and train crew to Chicago to meet and bring the train east. The following Associated Press dispatches indicate that the presidential train is making schedule time and it may be expected here at the hour named in foregoing:

Medicine Bow, Wyo., May 27.—The presidential special made schedule time through Utah and Wyoming last night. Mrs. McKinley rested well and Dr. Rixey reported that she passed a comfortable night. The president, as usual, was the first member of the official party to rise. At Rawlings, a little mining town, where the train stopped for water before 7 o'clock, he shook hands with a number of people.

Laramie, Wyo., May 27.—The presidential special reached Laramie at 10:10 a. m. It is due at Omaha at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning.

WILL INCREASE SHOP FORCE.

The Wabash shops, which are now giving employment to about three hundred men, when running full-handed, will be employing over 400 men before the end of the present year. This increase in shop force will be necessary to meet the increased demands that will be made upon the shops when the Butler line is completed and the fifty or sixty new engines now almost due from the locomotive works are in service. Mr. Barnes, General superintendent of motive power of the Wabash, who is in the city, says the company has already ordered some additional machinery for the Fort Wayne shops and that it will arrive and be placed in operation the coming summer. Mr. Barnes will go to the Richmond locomotive works the later part of the present week to see how work upon the new engines is progressing. Twelve of the new engines will be for passenger service and six of them will be of the Atlantic high-speed type, with seventy-nine inch drivers. All of the road engines will have 6,000-gallon capacity water tanks.

NO CHANGE IN THE SITUATION.

There is no change in the strike situation on the Wabash, so far as outward indications go. What the striking machinists have concluded to do with Mr. Ramsey's proposal in a compromise way is known only to the men themselves. They maintain the same reticence that has characterized their actions during the entire strike and nothing can be learned from anyone in a position to talk. From an outside source it was learned that the proposition of Mr. Ramsey was not presented to the men at their hall, but was posted upon the various bulletin boards in the shops, as such notices usually are posted. However, the men are informed upon the question and may take some definite action today or tomorrow, if they have not already acted. The news from Springfield is to the effect that the situation is unchanged.

STRIKER DELEGATES COMING.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the announcement was made from an employe's source that delegates representing the Wabash machinists at Moberly and Springfield are en route here, and that a meeting will be held at the hall, 128 Calhoun street, this evening. It is said that the men will either reject or accept Mr. Ramsey's proposition at that meeting.

YESTERDAY'S EXCURSIONS.

The weather interfered with the excursion business yesterday and all parties were considerably smaller than they would have been under more favorable weather conditions. The Lake Erie and Western, which had reason to expect at least 200 excursionists out of this city to Indianapolis, only had seventy-five; the Grand Rapids and Indiana took 150 to Rome City, and Kendallville and twenty-three to Richmond, and the Findlay brought in forty people from the towns along the line of that railway. The largest excursion party of the day was that of the Wabash to Lafayette, which included 191 Fort Wayne people, many of them members of the Woodmen of the World, who went there to attend a state meeting of the order. That excursion train took on passengers at all points east of and including Peru and went into Logansport with its seven coaches well filled. The Lake Erie and Western will run another cheap Indianapolis excursion on Sunday, June 9, when a large crowd is expected.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

of cod-liver oil is the means of life, and enjoyment of life to thousands; men women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge; the thick end is food. But what is the use of food, when you hate it, and can't digest it?

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, agreeable taste will surprise you.

REPORTED FOR DUTY.

M. C. Tierney and J. N. Stephens resumed work in the Pittsburg machine shop this morning. Both were off on account of injured feet, Mr. Tierney about two weeks and Mr. Stephens about four weeks. John Reidel, A. Tassler and A. J. Schirmeyer, of the car department, also reported for work this morning. They had been sick. Lumber Yard Foreman John Gnau, who had been off duty on account of the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frech, also resumed work this morning. Blacksmith John Rupp, who had a boil on his arm, also reported for work.

FREIGHT BUSINESS HEAVY.

A Wabash freight man who has been employed here eighteen years said this morning that during his term of service he never saw local freight business heavier than it is at present. As a result the company has the largest force of freight handlers here in its history and if present conditions continue the force will have to receive more additions. This morning one man was added, Charles J. Owens, and others may be taken on before the end of the week.

FREE RIDE FOR A NAME.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad company wants to give some one a round-trip ticket from their home, anywhere between Petoskey and Richmond, Ind., to Petoskey or Harbor Springs and return, in exchange for a name for their new summer flyer, which will begin its daily northward runs June 30. The officials desire a name appropriate to the train, expressing, if possible, its speed and comforts for the summer resort traveler.

The train is now a regular one, leaving Richmond at 5:40 a. m. It will make regular time until it reaches Grand Rapids, when it will assume the gait of the famous Northland express and make but three or four stops between Grand Rapids and Petoskey. It will reach the latter place at 7 p. m. and Harbor Springs at 7:45, stopping at Bay View and Wequetonsing en route.

RUMOR PROBABLY CORRECT.

No official announcement of the transfer of L. F. Loree, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania, to the Baltimore and Ohio has been received here, yet the rumor that such transfer is to occur June 1 is generally believed. Just how the change will affect the lines west of Pittsburg is a matter of considerable doubt. Everybody expects some changes, but none profess ability to correctly outline them. As the first of June draws near the rumors become more interesting and are the subject of much comment. Mr. Loree is in Chicago today.

INSTALL TRAVELING CRANE.

Workmen are engaged today in installing a large traveling crane in the new addition to the electric works. This crane came from the Siemens-Halske works in Chicago and is a massive affair, capable of lifting and carrying the heaviest pieces of machinery to be turned out of the works.

ACCIDENTS SATURDAY.

There were a half-dozen or more accidents among the Pittsburg shopmen last Saturday, none, however, of a serious character. In addition to those reported by The Sentinel Saturday evening are the following: W. E. Young, boilermaker, left hand burned; A. Jordan, car builder, face and eye injured by a board flying up; James Didier, face and hands burned by slacking lime flying upon him, and Henry Dirig, back sprained by lifting.

INSPECTING SIGNALS.

A special train bearing W. McC. Grafton and assistants left Richmond this morning for a trip over the Grand Rapids and Indiana road and arrived here this afternoon. Mr. Grafton is the chief signal engineer of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg and the present trip is his official inspection of the signal department of the Grand Rapids road, which is a Pennsylvania line. He is accompanied on the trip by E. A. Barnes, resident engineer of the Grand Rapids and Indiana.

A 1,500 light generator left the electric works Saturday for Wabash, where it will be added to the equipment of the lighting plant in that city.

E. Buuck, H. Jacobs and J. W. Irwin are sick and James Woodward is off on account of the death of a relative. They are Pittsburg shopmen.

Blacksmith James Conroy resumed his place at the forge in the Wabash shops this morning. He was off duty over a week on account of the death of his son, Edward.

George H. B. Freeby, car tracer of the Wabash, will take a vacation in a few days and during his absence Will Dugley, night clerk, will have charge of that work.

A. C. Becker, N. Kirchner and J. Froschang have been called to Dayton, Ohio, by Mr. Belden. They will work in the factory in which that gentleman recently became interested.

President Norton, of the Toledo, St. Louis and Western, has issued an order to the effect that no employe must be discharged without investigation of any charges made against him.

Nickel Plate Brakeman R. M. Beltz is nursing an injured knee and will probably be unable to work for several days. Brakemen E. T. Stevenson and Andy Delay are taking a much needed rest.

The Logansport lodge of Elks has arranged with the Wabash to run a special train to this city on the 12th of June for the accommodation of the big delegation from that city to attend the state meeting of the Elks.

Michael Vizzard, foreman of railway boiler shops at Iona, Mich., is in the city to attend the funeral of his niece, Miss Abbie Falvy. Mr. Vizzard formerly resided in this city and worked in the Wabash shops.

It is stated that the new line from Toledo to Montpelier, Ohio, which the Wabash is building, will bring Chicago and Toledo much closer and will increase the company's net earnings at least a half million dollars per annum.

Commencing on June 1st, the Chicago and Rock Island, in conjunction with the Wabash, will inaugurate its Colorado flyer, establishing a through Pullman sleeper line from St. Louis to Denver by way of Kansas City and Topeka.

Henry Fisher, who spent Sunday with friends in the city, left this morning for Ridgeville, where he will attend to some business for the Panhandle. Mr. Fisher now occupies an important position on that road, with headquarters at Logansport.

Engine 100 passed through the city yesterday, en route to the eastern division of the Nickel Plate, where it will go into service. This engine has just been thoroughly repaired at the Stony Island shops. It is of the Baldwin compound pattern, the only one of its kind on the road.

Edward J. Gebhard, a boilermaker, resumed his duties in the Wabash shop this morning after a week's absence on account of an injured wrist.

The Fort Wayne Electric company this morning sent another twenty-horse power motor to the works of the Kerr Murray company, the second to be installed there so far. There will be two more.

Engineers B. F. Campbell and C. C. Miller and Firemen I. A. Keller and D. L. Mason are sick; Fireman D. S. Peterson is kept at home by the sickness of his wife, and Fireman C. E. Bean is looking after some private business. They are Pittsburg employes.

The local lodge of the Order of Railway Conductors had a largely attended and interesting meeting yesterday. R. B. Reilly, the lodge's representative to the biennial convention of the order, made his report of that meeting in a most comprehensive and complete manner.

For the second time Jimmy Willson has beaten all competitors in the United States naval academy athletic sports contests, at Annapolis. Last Saturday Jimmy won the three leading prizes, the 100 yards dash, the 440 yards running race and the running broad jump. The young man is a son of M. S. Willson, of the electric works.

Fireman W. A. Ellis, of the Nickel Plate, has gone to his old home in northern Michigan for a thirty days' visit. Fireman A. Evans, also of the Nickel Plate, has taken a ten days' leave of absence, which he will spend with relatives in South Whitley. Mrs. Evans will accompany her husband on the visit.

Contractor Jasp has secured the contract for building a tunnel under the Erie road at Huntington for the Southwestern road. He is at present constructing a couple of culverts in Maumee township, which will be completed within a day or two. He will then immediately commence work at Huntington.

George W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio, and C. Stewart Patterson, of the Pennsylvania, have been elected directors of the Trigg Shipbuilding company, of Richmond, Va., which increased its capital to $3,000,000 on Tuesday. This is taken as evidence that the shipbuilding company is controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad company.

A. P. Bretz will retire from the position of night yardmaster at Bellevue for the Nickel Plate next Friday. He has accepted a position with the Mobile and Ohio road, with headquarters at Mobile, Ala. Mr. Bretz is well known to all Nickel Plate trainmen. He was formerly stationed at Chicago, being transferred to Bellevue only a few months ago.

The human body, it has been found, is shorter at night than in the morning, due to the weight of the body compressing the intervertebral cartilages. DORNTE.

Mrs. Bertha Dornte, wife of George F. Dornte, of 69 Shawnee avenue, died at 5 o'clock Sunday evening at St. Joseph's hospital from dropsy. Mrs. Dornte was forty years of age. Surviving are the husband but no children. Mr. Dornte is an air-brake inspector on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from St. Paul's Lutheran church, of which the deceased was a member.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works will meet in regular session this afternoon, but no business of importance has yet been filed for consideration. The new members are giving considerable thought to the Harrison street opening question, so that when the matter of fixing damages in the preliminary proceedings comes up they can act intelligently.

H. W. Felts has been granted a permit to erect two houses on Pontiac street at a cost of $1,800.

Contractor Peter is putting the finishing touches on the intercepting sewer. The people of South Wayne would swell up with gratitude if a similiar remark could be truthfully said of Contractor Adams and the South Wayne sewer.

The committees on health and finance will meet tonight.

The street and park employes will receive their semi-monthly pay tomorrow. About $1,400 will be disbursed.

City Attorney Shambaugh and Charles McCuloch went to Columbus, Ohio, today. The object of their visit is a conference with Adams, the sewer builder, or rather the man who does not build sewers, and if possible close up the contract pending with T. J. Peter for the past month. It is rumored about the city hall that the gentlemen named will come back from Columbus with the contract, bond and everything all signed, sealed and delivered.

The council will meet tomorrow evening.

Two plain drunks were locked up at the police station at noon today.

COME TO STUDY EMBALMING

CLASS OF UNDERTAKERS FROM NEAR-BY TOWNS.

School Will Open at Wayne Hotel Tomorrow Under Noted Eastern Instructors.

About twenty-five undertakers from this city and near-by towns will gather at the Wayne hotel tomorrow for the opening session of a school of embalming to be conducted by Dr. Eliab Myers, of the Myers' School of Embalming, of Springfield, Ohio.

J. E. Meyers, a son of the head of the institution, arrived in the city this morning and is making arrangements for the opening of the lectures, which are to continue during the entire week. Prof. J. Henry Long, of Pittsburg, will arrive tomorrow to inaugurate the instructions and Dr. Myers comes on Wednesday. The class will include not only a number of young men who are beginning the study of scientific embalming, but also several of the older undertakers, who desire to brighten up on the latest methods of doing the work.

ATTORNEYS AT A BANQUET

BLACKFORD LAW CLUB ENTERTAINS GUESTS.

Brilliant Social Affair at the Wayne Club Saturday Evening—The Program.

The Blackford Law club, an organization of well-known young attorneys of the city, held its second annual banquet at the Wayne club Saturday evening, and its guests of honor were the older members of the bar who have presided over the club's deliberations during the past year.

Flowers and potted plants lent an added beauty to the banquet room, and the event was brilliant and highly enjoyable from every point of view. The menue was as follows:

Consommie, en Tasse.
Baked Blue Fish, aux Herbs Fines.
Relishes.
Turkish Peanuts. Salted Almonds.
Deer Tongue. New Potatoes in Cream.
Fillet of Beef.
Petit Pois.
Chicken Salad, en Mayonnaise.
Ice Cream. Assorted Cake.
Roquefort Cheese. Swiss Cheese.
Water Crackers. Salted Wafers.
Coffee and Cigars.

Guy Colerick, the club's president, acted as toastmaster. Hon. John H. Aiken spoke on "The Judge's View of the Young Lawyer;" Carl Yaple responded to "The Beginner's View of the Bench;" Lee J. Nindo had the theme "Successes and Mishaps of the Young Lawyer, while Hon. Allen Zollars' response was on "The Practicing Lawyer." The responses were thoroughly enjoyable, and following them were impromptu remarks from many other gentlemen around the board. The guests were delightfully entertained until a late hour.
